Alma Mater

by Louis Corson

Alma, our Alma Mater,
The home of Mountaineers.
Sing we of thy honor,
Everlasting through the years.
Alma, our Alma Mater,
We pledge in song to you.
Hail, all hail, our Alma Mater,
West Virginia “U.”
Congratulations on reaching a life-changing milestone.

Hard work and perseverance have taken you far. But as the word “commencement” implies, your real journey is only now beginning — and that journey will stretch as far as your devotion to a larger purpose carries you.

Is your life’s purpose to heal others? Is it to inspire others with great works of art or your words or deeds? Is it to shatter the status quo with the next high-tech innovation?

Life is about finding your purpose and making sure your choices serve that purpose.

You will undoubtedly make some unexpected detours along the way. I certainly have, in the 50 years since I donned my own cap and gown.

But your Mountaineer determination will inspire you to ever-greater heights.

The unique skills and strengths you honed here will drive you onward.

The hopes and goodwill of 200,000 other West Virginia University graduates will sustain you.

And your own inner calling will guide you to the perfect destination.

Your purpose is calling. Our world is waiting.

Let’s go.

Sincerely,

E. Gordon Gee
President, West Virginia University

Commencement Traditions

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY SEAL
The West Virginia University Board of Regents adopted the seal on June 15, 1869. The Regents’ original, handwritten resolution is located in the University Archives at the Wise Library. The Greek motto inscribed in the inner circle translates to: “Add to your faith virtue and to virtue knowledge.” The Latin verse inscribed on the outer circle translates to: “Seal of the West Virginia University. Established 7 February, 1867.” The hills depicted behind Woodburn Circle reflect the institution’s stability, and a rising sun indicates its prosperity.

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY MACE
The mace is a symbolic tradition that originated during the Middle Ages. The University Marshal brings this ornamental staff of authority to the platform and taps it three times to signify the beginning of the ceremony. It represents the official authority of the University president and precedes him or her during Commencement and inauguration.

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY ACADEMIC REGALIA
The history of academic regalia worn today dates to the Middle Ages. The oldest universities of northern Europe evolved from ecclesiastical institutions where both faculty and students were regarded as part of the clergy and dressed in clerical garb. The head covering of modern academic costume was developed from the skullcap worn by the clergy in cold weather to protect their tonsured heads. At universities, this skullcap acquired a point on top, which gradually evolved into a tassel. The bonnet with tassel is still worn by some, but the mortarboard is more common.

The gown worn today evolved from the habit worn by Benedictine monks. No trimming is found on bachelor’s or master’s gowns, but for those holding doctoral degrees, the gown is faced down the front and trimmed on the sleeves with velvet.

Today’s hood is colored according to the scholarly field of the individual and bears the official colors of the institution that conferred the degree.

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY ACADEMIC PROCESSIONAL
The sequence of the processional is as follows: deans, degree candidates, faculty, platform party, honored guests, and University president.

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY MARSHALS
The tradition of academic marshals comes from storied English universities. The Grand Marshal is the chief protocol officer who coordinates the ceremonial traditions of Commencement, including the processional and recessional. The Grand Marshal is also responsible for the school’s relics, including the mace and batons. Marshals are typically members of the faculty. Student marshals may be selected to help facilitate individual ceremonies.

Honorary Degree Recipient

DONALD LYLE HOYLMAN

Donald Hoylman developed Industrial Resources, Inc. of Fairmont, WV, from a small corporation with minimal assets and customers to a major international corporation with solid credentials in the design-build of coal handling, coal preparation plants, process systems and a manufacturer of products for the mining industry, serving the USA and international markets.

In 1971, Don merged Industrial with Salem Corporation, a multi-faceted international conglomerate listed on the American Stock Exchange. Don served as a corporate director and officer through 1996.

Don was responsible for the Salem Minerals Processing Group consisting of Industrial, Al Lee, West Virginia Electric and their subsidiaries and Salem Automation in Rotherham, England. Don expanded sales with increased projects and installations throughout the United States, Mexico, South America and internationally.

While in charge of Salem Automation, Don managed and refined a computer programming company with a fire safety process for deep sea oil drilling platforms, leading to projects in the North Sea, India, Qatar, Libya, Saudi Arabia, the Netherlands and other European locations.

In addition, Industrial performed various manufacturing projects through Herr Voss, an international division of Salem Corporation and, with Salem Furnace, directed the installation of a major conveying project in Saudi Arabia.

Don also performed several projects with Salem’s Coke Oven building company, Wilputte Corp., and activities in new process and product development with the Salem Research Group.

During this period, he also began a series of strategic acquisitions designed to broaden the scope and depth of Industrial’s offerings and capabilities through a vertical integration of key companies.

Through the life of the initiative increased employment from 15 to more than 335 predominately West Virginia residents, opened satellite offices in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Lester, West Virginia and Rotherham, England while increasing sales from $25,000 to more than $100 million annually.

Congratulations from the WVU Alumni Association

Congratulations Graduates!

You did it. After years of hard work and dedication, you’ve earned your degree from West Virginia University. On behalf of the WVU Alumni Association, I applaud you for reaching this significant milestone.

You will soon learn that your West Virginia University experience does not end at graduation; a part of your alma mater will always be with you. When you see a flying WV on a car in a parking lot or when you pass someone wearing a WVU hat in the airport, you will feel that pride of being a part of something bigger. You are a Mountaineer for life.

As you embark on the next phase of your life, know that you are not alone. You are now a part of a growing networking of more than 200,000 Mountaineers across the globe, and I assure you that wherever your country roads may lead you next, your alumni family will be there.

To help you stay connected, we are providing you with a complimentary year of membership to the WVU Alumni Association as a graduation gift to you. I encourage you to join your local alumni chapter, engage with fellow Mountaineers on WVU Connect (wvuconnect.com), and take advantage of our valuable services and communications that will continue your connection with West Virginia University. You can learn more about the WVU Alumni Association and how we serve you by visiting alumni.wvu.edu.

I am proud of you and your fellow graduates, and I am eager to help you remain connected with our alma mater.
