Alma Mater
by Louis Corson

Alma, our Alma Mater,
The home of Mountaineers.
Sing we of thy honor,
Everlasting through the years.
Alma, our Alma Mater,
We pledge in song to you.
Hail, all hail, our Alma Mater,
West Virginia “U”.
May 2022

The West Virginia University journey that you began with a dream culminates today with a solid sense of purpose.

Grit and determination have helped you overcome every obstacle along the way, and we all know that the last few years have presented many obstacles. But, as the word “commencement” implies, another journey is now beginning.

Your experience at West Virginia University has been about creating your purpose and making sure your choices serve that purpose. Is your goal healing the sick? Inspiring others with your artistic vision? Shattering the status quo with the next high-tech innovation?

Whatever path you choose, Mountaineer perseverance will guide you to ever-higher summits.

The unique skills and strengths you honed here will drive you onward.

The hopes and goodwill of 200,000 other West Virginia University graduates will accompany you.

And your own inner calling will lead you to the perfect destination.

Your purpose is calling.

Let’s go!

Sincerely,

E. Gordon Gee
President, West Virginia University

Information for Graduates and Guests

AMBASSADORS AND VOLUNTEERS

ACCOMMODATIONS
If you made arrangements with the Office of Accessibility Services, please follow the instructions that were provided to you. Accessible seating is available on a first-come, first-served basis.

COURTESY
West Virginia University asks that guests remain in their seats. For the safety and security of the participants, guests are not permitted to approach the stage to take personal photos of, present gifts to, or congratulate the graduates. Air horns or other noise-making devices should not be used. Please turn your cell phone to “silent” and remember that graduates will remain with their class for the duration of the ceremony. Your cooperation is appreciated.

DIPLOMAS
Names listed in this program are taken from applications for graduation made to the West Virginia University Office of the University Registrar. Registration for graduation does not ensure that graduate names appear in this program, and this document is not an official record of degrees awarded. Participation in Commencement does not constitute graduation from West Virginia University. Students who have met the academic criteria required for their program of study will have their degree conferred by the University and will receive their diploma in the mail. Please contact the Office of the University Registrar at 304-293-5355 or registrar@mail.wvu.edu with questions.

EMERGENCY INFORMATION
In an emergency, event staff will guide guests and graduates to the nearest exit. If medical attention is needed, EMS is available to assist. Please seek out a Student Ambassador or other volunteer to assist you.

FLORAL SALES

LOST AND FOUND
Please call 304-293-7132 to make inquiries about any lost and found items. Unclaimed items will be retained for 90 days.

PHOTOGRAPHY
West Virginia University contracts with GradImages to capture the special memories of Commencement. A photograph of each student will be taken as they cross the stage. Graduates will be sent electronic copies of their photo proofs within 48 hours of their ceremony. All electronic communication will be private and secure and will be sent to the email address indicated by the graduate. Visit gradimages.com for complete information.

SURVEY
Following the ceremony, please take a moment to share your opinion of WVU Commencement. Your responses will be used to strengthen and shape future events: graduation.wvu.edu.

West Virginia University is a tobacco-free campus.
Commencement Traditions

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY SEAL
The West Virginia University Board of Regents adopted the seal on June 15, 1869. The Regents’ original, handwritten resolution is located in the University Archives at the Wise Library. The Greek motto inscribed in the inner circle translates to: “Add to your faith virtue and to virtue knowledge.” The Latin verse inscribed on the outer circle translates to: “Seal of the West Virginia University. Established 7 February, 1867.” The hills depicted behind Woodburn Circle reflect the institution’s stability, and a rising sun indicates its prosperity.

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY MACE
The mace is a symbolic tradition that originated during the Middle Ages. The University Marshal brings this ornamental staff of authority to the platform and taps it three times to signify the beginning of the ceremony. It represents the official authority of the University president and precedes him or her during Commencement and inauguration.

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY ACADEMIC REGALIA
The history of academic regalia worn today dates to the Middle Ages. The oldest universities of northern Europe evolved from ecclesiastical institutions where both faculty and students were regarded as part of the clergy and dressed in clerical garb. The head covering of modern academic costume was developed from the skullcap worn by the clergy in cold weather to protect their tonsured heads. At universities, this skullcap acquired a point on top, which gradually evolved into a tassel. The bonnet with tassel is still worn by some, but the mortarboard is more common.

The gown worn today evolved from the habit worn by Benedictine monks. No trimming is found on bachelor’s or master’s gowns, but for those holding doctoral degrees, the gown is faced down the front and trimmed on the sleeves with velvet. Today’s hood is colored according to the scholarly field of the individual and bears the official colors of the institution that conferred the degree.

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY ACADEMIC PROCESSIONAL
The sequence of the processional is as follows: deans, degree candidates, faculty, platform party, honored guests, and University president.

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY MARSHALS
The tradition of academic marshals comes from storied English universities. The Grand Marshal is the chief protocol officer who coordinates the ceremonial traditions of Commencement, including the processional and recessional. The Grand Marshal is also responsible for the school’s relics, including the mace and batons. Marshals are typically members of the faculty. Student marshals may be selected to help facilitate individual ceremonies.
2022 Order of Augusta

The Order of Augusta is awarded to a select group of each year’s WVU Foundation Outstanding Seniors. Those selected have shown superior scholarship, leadership and service as an undergraduate. This award, the highest given to a student by the University, is named for its historical significance in the state. Augusta was among the original names considered by the Legislature when the state seceded from Virginia in 1863.

Dear Statler College of Engineering and Mineral Resources Class of 2022,

Commencement marks a major milestone in your life. On this day, you can say that because of your hard work, your dedication to yourself, your steadfast commitment to your goals and your willingness to follow your dreams, you have created a better future for yourself. On behalf of the Statler College, I wish to congratulate you on this outstanding achievement. As much as graduation is a very personal accomplishment, please acknowledge and celebrate the friends, family members, loved ones and mentors who supported you along this journey.

It is no question that your generation faces unique challenges. Now, more than ever, we need innovative leaders, creative thinkers and compassionate individuals who will make a difference by solving major challenges the world faces. I have no doubt that the skills you acquired as part of the Statler College will allow you to chart a new course, design and build new innovations for the betterment of society and become the leaders we need.

At the Statler College, we strive to uphold the importance of education, celebrate diversity and always treat one another with respect. I hope you hold these values close to you and carry them with you as you navigate your own path in life. Each of you has left your mark on the Statler College, and I look forward to seeing the mark you leave on our world.

Although this is a celebration of the end of your academic journey, it is also the moment when a new chapter of your life is beginning. Wherever your path takes you, I hope you always have West Virginia University in your heart and remain a proud member of the Statler College Family.

Remember that you are a brilliant, ambitious and able individual who can accomplish whatever you set your mind to. I could not be prouder of each one of you.

Congratulations! Let’s go!

Sincerely,

Pedro J. Mago

Barrios has been a prime contractor for NASA for four decades, providing exceptional engineering, operations and data/IT Integration for Human Spaceflight programs. Knotts is focused on fostering a thriving commercial space economy by partnering with commercial launch, spacecraft and orbiting space destination providers.

Knotts spent 20 years as a NASA aerospace engineer advancing human space flight at the Johnson Space Center in Houston. She trained astronauts on the systems, procedures and hardware they would use in space during complex spacewalk missions for the Space Shuttle and International Space Station programs.

Knotts was an instrumental part in the success of many critical missions to construct the International Space Station, developing mission plans and executing critical real-time flight activities as a NASA flight controller in the Mission Control Center.

She led many projects and organizations related to next-generation spacesuits and Moon and Mars exploration before heading into oil and gas to fund multiple companies. Knotts has served in many executive roles as CEO, president, managing director and chairperson.

Knotts is a distinguished West Virginia University alumna who graduated from the Benjamin M. Statler College of Engineering and Mineral Resources in 1994 with a bachelor’s degree in aerospace engineering.

She is a Tau Beta Pi Eminent Engineer, currently serves on the WVU Statler Visiting Committee and recently was elected to the WVU Foundation Board.
Congratulations on being a historic class!

As the first graduates to celebrate in the Loulie, Valerie and William Canady Creative Arts Center, you are setting the stage for what will become a “new normal.” Of course, you are historic for other reasons, primarily as the class that persevered through a pandemic. As a class you have grown and developed during a time of great “disruption.” Your ability to persevere has inspired us and makes us proud of you. Your ability to persevere also gives us hope as we enter this “new normal.” We know that the world you are graduating into is a world that needs the arts and the best you have to give. You graduate into a world that is damaged, a world that needs healing. A world that needs culture and the arts more than ever before. To paraphrase alumnus Michael Chioldi, you graduate into a world that now realizes, “the Arts Are Essential!” That statement may seem dramatic, but drama is part of our nature. As long as there has been civilization the arts have been essential. The history of the previous century is proof of that fact. A hundred years ago the world was just recovering from a “Great War” when the last pandemic hit. That period was followed by the roaring twenties, a time when artistic creation flourished. Since then, all historic social disruptions have been accompanied by periods of increased creative activity. World War II, the Civil Rights Movement, The AIDS Epidemic, September 11th, or Hurricane Katrina all led to surges in creativity. You will lead the way by creating a sincere and relevant “voice” for this moment.

The moment to lead is close, but now is the moment to reflect and enjoy this achievement. Now is the time to know we will miss you (so please visit!). Now is the time to share hugs (if you are OK with that) and take lots of selfies. Now is the time to rest before creating our next “new normal.”

Matt Van Dyne is a graduate of West Virginia University with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Acting and Directing and a Master Of Arts degree in Theatrical Design. He has worked in television, film and theatre in Los Angeles for over 25 years. Early credits include the long-running syndicated program “Entertainment Tonight,” The E Channel and a variety of other entertainment programs for which he established identifiable styles and designs still being seen today.

During his initial 10 years, Van Dyne founded the company Clothe Inc., a provider of wardrobe arrangements serving as a liaison between prominent fashion houses such as Armani, Dior and Ferragamo and various films, television programs and special events, most notably the Winter Olympic Games for CBS.

Throughout the 1990s and into the 2000s, Van Dyne has been involved in designing, styling and supervising for The Disney Channel, the WB Network HGTV, and a number of television shows including “Cheers,” “Murphy Brown,” “The Shield,” “Jeopardy,” the “Miss USA Pageant/ Miss Teen USA,” “Eileen Ford Supermodel of the Year,” “Buffy the Vampire Slayer” and more.

In his work in television and film, he has styled and costumed a variety of actors, personalities, musicians and sports figures, including Michael J. Fox, John Travolta, Lily Tomlin, Sarah Michelle Gellar, Alyson Hannigan, Ellen Burstyn, Kevin Dillon, Sally Field, Scott Bakula, Ted Danson, Woody Harrelson, Lynn Redgrave, Walton Goggins, Michael Chiklis, CCH Pounder, Leah Remini, Debi Mazar, Jesse Metcalfe, Alyssa Milano, Merv Griffin, Alex Trebek, Pat Sajak, Mary Hart, Diahann Carroll, Alicia Silverstone, Jeff Garlin, Rue McClanahan, Rascal Flatts, Ashanti, Olivia Newton-John, Patti Labelle, Leeza Gibbons, John F. Kennedy Jr., Bob Costas, Greg Gumbel, Scott Hamilton, Andrea Joyce, Katarina Witt, Captain Kangaroo and several more.

He has recently participated with publications, events and podcasts involving his contributions to the legacy of various television shows.

Dear Graduates of the College of Education and Human Services,

On behalf of the entire faculty and staff of the College of Education and Human Services, it is my distinct pleasure to extend our heartfelt congratulations to you. Your hard work and dedication in a time of unique challenges has been inspiring. We are exceptionally proud of your achievements and wish you great happiness as you take the next steps on life’s journey.

Each of you now possesses the opportunity and responsibility to your communities using all that you have learned here. I know you are up to the task. You have demonstrated that you are committed, compassionate, collaborative and well-prepared to function successfully in our ever-evolving world. The need for educators and helping professionals who can improve the lives of others is greater than ever before. I am confident that you are prepared for whatever challenges are ahead.

As you look to the future, please take a moment to reflect in appreciation on all who have supported you along the way. Be they parents, family members, friends, neighbors, advisors, or employers — no doubt your path has been eased in a critical moment by someone who cared and believed in you. Please pay their kindness forward to those who will follow in your footsteps, for lasting meaning springs from a multitude of collective actions.

Thank you for choosing West Virginia University and the College of Education and Human Services. Thank you for respecting and embracing what our faculty offered — and thank you for teaching us in turn. You — our treasured students — are why we do what we do.

Please stay in touch. Share your stories. Let us know about those first jobs and later career accomplishments. It is a privilege to learn of the adventures of our alumni, to travel beside you in spirit and to welcome you back on many and varied returns.

With happiest wishes,

Dear College of Law Class of 2022,

Congratulations on receiving your law degree from the West Virginia University College of Law! On this triumphant day, you join generations of proud Mountaineer alumni who use the knowledge and skills gained here to lead and to serve communities throughout the state of West Virginia and the world. You are an admirable member of that group and we look forward to celebrating your future successes with you.

Today, we celebrate your many accomplishments and you face your future with confidence, but it is also a day to reflect upon your time at the College of Law. You have made lasting friends, you have learned a great deal about law and society in the classroom and outside of it, and you have developed critical thinking, reading and communication skills. You persevered through the normal challenges associated with law school and the uneasy challenges of a global pandemic. It has been a privilege to learn from you just as you have learned from us. Your families and friends are tremendously proud of you, and we are, too.

On behalf of our faculty, staff and your fellow alumni, I would like to extend our best wishes as you leave us to being on a new journey full of joy, hope and confidence that your time here has prepared you to engage in the legal profession in a meaningful way. We know that you are ready to serve our profession well, no matter where your personal path leads you next. Good luck with your new endeavors. Please stay in touch and come back to visit us on Law School Hill soon!

Take good care,

Amelia Smith Rinehart

Commencement Speaker

Vincent Paul Cardi is the Bowles Rice Professor of Law at the West Virginia University College of Law. He is the Professor of the Year, selected by the WVU College of Law Class of 2022.

Professor Cardi teaches Contracts, Sales and Secured Transactions, Bankruptcy, Creditors and Debtor Rights, and Commercial law. He is a past recipient of the Professor of the Year Award (2012, 2019) and the WVU Foundation Award for Outstanding Teaching (1992, 2020).

Over the course of his career, Professor Cardi has held visiting professorships at Wake Forest, Ohio State, Mercer, St. John’s and St. Thomas universities.

Professor Cardi is a member of the American Law Institute, past president of the Southeastern Association of Law Schools, and a former board member and president of Legal Aid of He is also a former member of the West Virginia State Election Commission.

Professor Cardi earned his bachelor’s degree in history and J.D. from Ohio State University (1963, 1967), and his LL.M. from Harvard University (1971).

His wife, Jane, is a local artist who recently retired as an assistant dean of the WVU College of Education. They have three sons.
Dr. Roslyn Clark Artis is the first woman president of Benedict College in Columbia, South Carolina — unanimously appointed by its Board of Trustees in 2017. She previously served as the 13th and first woman president of Florida Memorial University in Miami Gardens.

A fierce advocate for educational access, Dr. Artis is frequently engaged as a mentor, lecturer and catalyst for strategic transformation. She is a nationally respected innovator and thought leader on higher education issues, specifically those related to underserved and vulnerable populations.

She has been recognized as Female HBCU President of the Year (“HBCU Digest”), among the Top 35 Leading Women in Higher Education (“Diverse Issues in Higher Education”) and President of the Year (“Higher Ed Dive”).

Dr. Artis serves on the Board of Directors of the American Council on Education and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges. She is the chair of the Presidents’ Advisory Board for Title III Administrators; a member of the NCAA Division II Presidents Council; and a member of the Educational Testing Service Presidents’ Advisory Council.

She also serves on the Advisory Board for the University of South Carolina’s National Resource Center for The First-Year Experience and Students in Transition and she is a board member for the Forum on Education Abroad. Dr. Artis is vice-chair for the Southern Regional Education Board HBCU-MSI Collaboration and has been named an Equity in Energy Ambassador for the U.S. Department of Energy.

In 2021, Dr. Artis was appointed to the National Advisory Committee on Institutional Quality and Integrity, counseling the U.S. Secretary of Education on accreditation matters and institutional eligibility for federal student aid.

Dr. Artis has received more than 300 awards and recognitions for her work, including the 2021 Lawyers and Leaders Award from the WVU College of Law and “West Virginia Executive Magazine.”

Dr. Artis holds a J.D. from the West Virginia University College of Law (1995) and a Doctorate in Higher Education Leadership and Policy from Vanderbilt University (2010). Her B.A. in political science is from West Virginia State University (1991).
Robert S. Whitehill’s community service leadership roles are extensive. Among them, he is a former chair of the Pittsburgh chapters of the American Civil Liberties Union and the American Immigration Lawyers Association. He was a national board member and is a current emeritus board member of the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society. Additionally, Whitehill is a former chair of the Allegheny County Bar Association’s Immigration Practitioners Committee and a former chair and current board member of the Community Day School.

Whitehill is a past recipient of the Pro Bono Award from the Allegheny County Bar Association and the Levinson Award for Community Leadership from the United Jewish Federation. He is a Fellow of the Wexner Heritage Foundation and a founder of the annual Shore-Whitehill Award that recognizes individuals who advance the inclusion of the Greater Pittsburgh Jewish community.

Earlier this year, Whitehill was part of a team from the WVU Law Immigration Clinic that worked at a federal facility in Wisconsin to help Afghan citizens resettle in the U.S.

He earned his J.D. from the University of Pittsburgh School of Law (1972) and his B.A. from Tulane University (1968).

Robert S. Whitehill is a senior counsel at Fox Rothschild LLP in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, specializing in immigration law. He is the former chair of the firm’s Immigration Group and has, for more than 25 years, served as the supervising attorney and co-director of the Immigration Clinic at the West Virginia University College of Law.

Active in civic and community issues, Whitehill has trained volunteer lawyers to represent foreign nationals trying to secure U.S. citizenship; helped counsel Muslim individuals from 26 countries who were forced to register with the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service in the wake of 9/11; facilitated the integration of hundreds of former Russian citizens into U.S. society; and assisted the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society in formulating public policy.

He also participates in Carnegie Mellon University’s Project Olympus Program, a startup incubator that encourages and supports student, faculty, alumni and staff entrepreneurship by helping to turn their research and ideas into business ventures.

Justitia Officium Award

On behalf of the faculty, staff, students and alumni, congratulations on your graduation from CPASS and WVU. I’m certain that this is the first of numerous important professional accomplishments that you will experience throughout your life. Be extremely proud that as a CPASS graduate, your name will join an illustrious list of alumni who have inspired and changed the world throughout the past 90 years. I’m confident that you will also strive to make your own positive impact upon society.

I trust that your experiences while in CPASS rate among the best times of your life. Although your last two years of college were like no other, the challenges you experienced have helped you develop an ability to adapt and persevere and you will be stronger for it as you take this next step. I’m also certain that you have made multiple “forever” friendships and identified more than a few mentors. Together, these people, challenges and adventures have set you on a path that will help you triumph personally and professionally.

It is my sincere hope that you have followed your passion within CPASS and are plotting a course for life fulfillment. Although you will encounter future successes and failures, be confident that you can rely on the knowledge, values and Mountaineer spirit that you learned as a CPASS student. These lessons will serve you well during salient times in your life.

My advice is to follow your passion and always strive to make the world a better place by promoting our college’s fundamental values: Application of Knowledge; Diversity, Equity and Inclusion; Collaboration and Discovery; Community Engagement; and Well-being. These values and the formal and informal learning you have experienced can guide you to greatness, just as they did for our commencement speaker, Jack Marucci. Through similar experiences as a CPASS student, he learned to adapt, innovate and be creative.

I am honored to have played a small part in your educational journey and am extremely proud of you. I hope you have treasured your time in CPASS as much as we have loved having you as a student.

And remember, country roads will bring you home to Morgantown and WVU. Please share your life events with us, as we love to hear what our alumni are up to.

Let’s Go Mountaineers!

As a leader in the field of athletic training and analytics, Jack Marucci enters his 26th season at LSU. As LSU’s former director of Athletic Training, and now as Director of Performance Innovation, Marucci’s leadership and vision has moved LSU to the forefront of collegiate athletics.

As director of Athletic Training, Marucci oversaw the athletic training operation for all 21 varsity sports. Marucci helped design the Broussard Center for Athletic Training at Tiger Stadium as well as the newly renovated Football Operations Building, which includes an innovative locker room boasting 8,000 square feet and “performance pods” built for relaxation, recovery and comfort.

While at LSU, Marucci spearheaded the “#18” program, also recognized in the College Football Hall of Fame. Each year, the player who demonstrates outstanding leadership and character is awarded the coveted #18 jersey to wear for the season.

At LSU, Marucci has been part of three national football titles. Marucci also served as assistant athletic trainer at Florida State from 1988-96, including eight bowl trips with Coach Bobby Bowden and a national championship. While in Tallahassee, Marucci was a host trainer for two NCAA baseball tournaments.

Marucci graduated from WVU in 1986 with a bachelor’s degree from the College of Physical Activity and Sport Sciences, earned his master’s from Alabama in 1988, where he also served as a graduate assistant trainer from 1986-88. He also worked with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1987 and the Cleveland Browns in 1985.

In the field of analytics, Marucci has developed metrics for predicting athlete success, including physical, mental and character assessments that allow athletes to capitalize strengths and maximize performance. He has studied eye tracking in football wide receivers to identify players’ most efficient routes and has established metrics for pass rush and field goal blocks that allow players to be most productive. Marucci also consults with NFL teams on the S2 cognition program.

Marucci is published in 19 sports medicine studies, including one regarding ACL reconstruction and the other assessing head trauma using helmet sensors, both of which changed the landscape across the NCAA.

Off the field, Marucci has mastered crafting wooden baseball bats and founded the Marucci Bat Company. The company, originally started as a backyard workshop, now has hundreds of major leaguers swinging its bats.

His latest projects include a collaboration with LSU called Tigeraire, which created cooling devices for athletic helmets, and also crafting drumsticks.
As the famous children’s author Dr. Seuss wrote:

“... You’re off to Great Places!
Today is your day! Your mountain is waiting, So ... get on your way!”

Mountaineers, your next mountain is waiting. Although you might be tempted to move or conquer it, remember it is meant to be explored and to open your eyes to new places and ways.

A mountain holds trees and trails, difficulties and darkness, flowers and springs – there is always beauty to find. It holds the entirety of a journey, of time well-spent and life well-lived.

Remember your recent WVU mountain: the all-nighters, the 20-page papers, the F’s and A’s, the friendships and fun. Looking down on it from the mountaintop, it’s beautiful, isn’t it? It always was.

What you are looking at now is the next mountain, the beginning of a glorious climb into the rest of your life. It looks enormous, majestic and, perhaps, daunting. As you press on, I hope you go forth in your life understanding what you’re about to face will be and is now beautiful.

“... Oh, the places you will go.”

Congratulations, graduates. You’re off to great places. Today is your day. Your next mountain is waiting. So ... get on your way!

Heather Jennings is a 2000 graduate of the Davis College at West Virginia University. She continued her studies at the Parsons School of Design in New York City, an experience that helped foster her innovative spirit and love of functional design, and broadened her understanding of retail, product sourcing, fashion merchandising, and commercial design.

Jennings founded Blackwell and Jennings in 2016 after transitioning from fashion to interior design. In 2017 she began to focus specifically on projects in the health and wellness sector, working to improve productivity and well-being in her clients’ workspaces and waiting rooms. Her projects incorporate methods and techniques proven to increase creativity and make visitors feel welcome.

Her goal is to create experiences for her clients that are inclusive and engaging by integrating natural materials/light, plants, greater color definition and varied spatial set-ups.

Heather believes in lifelong learning and is currently studying color theory, space planning and new rendering platforms.

She recognizes empathy for her clients, and the ever-changing zeitgeist, as important influences on her design style. Fascinated by the ways an interior space can provide healing and comfort, Heather Jennings practices daily design rituals both at work and at home.
Dear Eberly Graduates:

On behalf of the entire Eberly College of Arts and Sciences, I want to congratulate you and tell you how delighted we are on your attaining this amazing achievement. This clearly is a time to celebrate. I do encourage you to take time to reflect on the experiences that have brought you to this day. You will no doubt reflect fondly on so many things such as the friends you have made, the unique and fulfilling experiences you have had, and the many things you learned, both inside and outside of class. At the same time, you will probably recall some things which may have challenged you; maybe even disappointed you. And you will most certainly reflect on the difficulties of pursuing your studies through an unprecedented public health crisis. However, your perseverance in the face of adversity makes this accomplishment even more satisfying. And I hope you know how proud we are of you.

As you move forward to the next part of your life’s journey, I would like for you to continue to reflect on your experiences at WVU and most particularly on your education. The graduation ceremony commemorates the completion of your academic course of study, and your diploma will be a tangible symbol of that achievement. But remember, the education you received at West Virginia University is something that now, and always will be, a part of you. So, I ask you to reflect from time to time about your education and the opportunities it presents you for. Moreover, I ask you to make good use of your education. The benefit of an Eberly education is that it is not just about the knowledge you gained about a particular subject, but rather the skills that will allow you to continue to learn throughout your life. Those skills manifest in being a critical thinker; being intellectually curious, being creative and innovative; being able to express yourself in a thoughtful and respectful manner; being compassionate and understanding; and being a problem-solver. The world needs individuals who possess these skills. Finally, and because of this, I hope you will also be good ambassadors for the power of education. When you have the opportunity, be willing to stand up and support the importance of education in all forms and find ways of helping others attain their educational goals.

Through reflection, action and support for others, the benefits of your education from the Eberly College and WVU will be renewed and perpetuated, and you will have an even greater sense of satisfaction and accomplishment than you do at this wonderful moment.

I wish you nothing but success and I cannot wait to see what you will achieve. Congratulations, graduates!

Let’s Go!

“Storming Heaven” was a Discovery selection of the Book-of-the-Month Club, and a New Voices selection of the Quality Paperback Book Club. “Storming Heaven” also received the 1987 W.D. Weatherford Award for the best published work about the Appalachian South. “The Unquiet Earth” also received the Weatherford Award as well as an American Book Award and the Lillian Smith Award for Fiction, the oldest literary award in the South. “Saints and Villains” was awarded the 1999 Boston Book Review Fisk Fiction Prize and was a semifinalist for the International Dublin Literary Award.

Giardina took part in the Appalachian Land Ownership Study in the early 1980s which documented that the region is dominated by absentee land ownership. She was arrested twice during the United Mine Workers’ strike against the Pittston Company in the late 1980s. She is an ordained deacon in the Episcopal Church.
Presidential Honorary Degree Recipient

STAVROS LAMBRINIDIS

Stavros Lambrinidis is the ambassador of the European Union to the United States, as of March 1, 2019.

From 2012 to 2019, he served as the European Union special representative for human rights.

In 2011, he was foreign affairs minister of Greece.

Between 2004 and 2011, he was twice elected member of the European Parliament (MEP) with the Greek Social Democratic Party (PASOK). He served as vice president of the European Parliament (2009-11), vice president of the Civil Liberties, Justice and Home Affairs Committee (2004-09) and head of the PASOK Delegation (2005-11).

Between 2000 and 2004, he was director-general of the International Olympic Truce Centre, an International Olympic Committee organization.

Between 1988 and 1993, he was an Attorney at Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering in Washington, D.C., specializing in international trade, transactions and arbitration.

He has received numerous recognitions for his work on human rights and privacy, including the Electronic Privacy Information Center’s “Champion of Freedom Award” in 2020 and the Boston Global Forum's “World Leader in Artificial Intelligence Award” in 2021. He is a member of the President’s Council on International Activities at Yale University and a former president of the DC Bar Association’s Human Rights Committee.

Lambrinidis was born in Athens, Greece, in 1962. He received his B.A. degree in Economics and Political Science from Amherst College (1984) and his J.D. degree from Yale Law School (1988), where he was also managing editor of The Yale Journal of International Law. He is a 1980 graduate of the Athens College High School in Greece. He is married and has a daughter.
Dear Class of 2022,

Today, a new journey begins.

Even if you don’t know exactly where that journey will take you, know that you are ready for it because of what you’ve learned during your years at West Virginia University.

Each of you learned more than you ever bargained for during your time at WVU – and you learned it fast. In the true pioneering spirit of the Chambers College, you pivoted and successfully learned to navigate the unexpected. We often say that our Chambers College students are the future of work, and that has never been more true than it is today.

A bright future lies ahead – and that future needs you. It needs your perseverance, your energy and your adaptability. It needs your hope and your aspirations to change the world for the better. It needs you to be the next generation of creators, entrepreneurs and business leaders who will confront the problems of today and solve the problems of tomorrow. It needs you to value and champion diversity so that you can break through barriers and do impossible things – and so that you can inspire others to do impossible things, too.

The jobs of tomorrow will favor those who are prepared to innovate and adapt on their feet. Chambers College students are well-prepared to do just that, as you have risen to the challenge together of navigating your college education with flexibility and tenacity.

Each of you has a blank slate in front of you, and that will give you the ability to transform business. Companies are rethinking how they work, and they will look to this generation to make an impact and shape a new course for all functional areas of business.

My hope is that you never stop dreaming big. As you take on the world, remember the importance of compassion. Take care of yourselves and each other. Be courageous enough to turn impossible to possible. Be humble enough to learn from your mistakes.

Know that I am so proud of each and every one of you. I can’t wait to see you all change the world for the better!

Best wishes,

Josh Hall

Tina Bigalke is chief diversity officer of PepsiCo. She is responsible for the continued evolution of the company’s culture, the development of behaviors that embrace diversity, inclusion and engagement at all levels of the company and the promotion of the company’s external reputation as a great place to work. She assumed the role in June 2020.

Bigalke, a 20-year PepsiCo veteran, works with leadership to create a sustainable roadmap for PepsiCo’s Winning with Purpose mission, including PepsiCo’s racial equality journey while continuing to progress the gender parity mission. She drives diversity into the decision-making process of the business.

Prior to her current role, Bigalke was SVP HR – Commercial for PFNA, where she shaped HR strategy in Frito’s commercial functions – customer sales, marketing and transformation. In this role, Tina and her team played a pivotal role in supporting FLNA’s transformational initiatives, including future go-to-market systems and organizational models, new ways of working and adoption of new technologies. She was instrumental in accelerating PFNA’s commercial talent agenda, while advancing a pipeline of diverse talent.

She has served PepsiCo in a range of HR capacities in field, headquarters and corporate global assignments, where she has developed broad and varied human capital management expertise in business transformation/innovation, change leadership and organizational design.

Bigalke holds an MSILR and a BBA in International Studies/Spanish from West Virginia University and participates in the WVU Practicum series, in addition to serving as an alumni mentor. She is a 2020 Chambers College Roll of Distinguished Alumni inductee. Bigalke is a previous board member of CASA of Collin County. Currently, she sits on the Dean’s Advisory Board of the WVU Chambers College of Business and Economics and as a member of the Compensation Committee of the WVU Foundation. Prior to PepsiCo, she held a range of human resources roles with PPG Industries, Inc., and MagneTek, Inc. Bigalke is the proud parent of two daughters.
Dear Reed College of Media Class of 2022,

Congratulations! You have worked hard, persevered and earned your degrees. We are proud of you!

As you continue along your professional paths, be patient and take heart in knowing your College of Media experience has prepared you to make a difference in the world. You undoubtedly will face new challenges and make mistakes along the way, but don’t be discouraged: few worthwhile goals in life are easy. Remain determined and dedicated to your purpose.

Remember that your professional work is more important than ever, as you research, report and communicate so people can make better sense of our complex world, discern fact from fiction, build community and make informed decisions. Work hard and find joy and motivation in these efforts, knowing there will be countless new opportunities for you to use your education and skills over time.

Class of 2022, you have enriched our classrooms and campus, and we will miss you. May “country roads” continue to inspire you and bring you “home” to the Reed College of Media at WVU. You are taking your place among our long history of graduates, and we are eager to hear of your journeys.

Best wishes for much continued success.

Let’s go!

He received the inaugural 2021 News Leader of the Year award from the News Leaders Association.

He has led investigations that have won several national and international awards, including the Selden Ring, Overseas Press Club, Investigative Reporters and Editors, the Robert F. Kennedy Journalism, the Society of Publishers in Asia and the Worth Bingham awards. He was part of a team that won a 2020 News and Documentary Emmy in collaboration with PBS “Frontline” for an investigation into the record-breaking numbers of migrant children in detention under former President Trump.

Prior to coming to joining the AP, Ron Nixon spent nearly 14 years at the New York Times, where he covered a variety of topics, including border and aviation security, immigration, cybercrime and cyber security, transnational crime and violent extremism.

At the Times, he reported from nearly two dozen countries, including Rwanda, Uganda, Belgium, Canada, Mexico, South Africa, Nigeria, Senegal, Guatemala, Costa Rica, Senegal, Mozambique, Burundi, Kenya, El Salvador, the United Kingdom, Peru, Brazil, Tanzania and the Democratic Republic of Congo.

Nixon is also co-founder of the Ida B. Wells Society for Investigative Reporting, a news trade organization with a mission of increasing the ranks, retention and profile of reporters and editors of color in the field of investigative reporting.

In 2015, he co-founded TruthBeTold.news, a non-profit, non-partisan fact-checking website and digital network, run and edited from Howard University’s Department of Media, Journalism, and Film in the School of Communication.

Nixon is currently the visiting associate for Journalism and Media Studies at The University of the Witwatersrand in Johannesburg, South Africa.

He is a Marine Corps infantry veteran who saw combat in the 1990 Persian Gulf War. He was part of the U.S. Marine Corps Security Forces Battalion at Norfolk, the security and counterterrorism unit of the Corps.

He is the author of Selling “Apartheid: South Africa’s Global Propaganda War.” He studied music at Alabama State University. He is a native of Lauderdale, MS.
Dear 2022 Graduates of the School of Dentistry,

Congratulations on your special day!

On behalf of the faculty, staff and your fellow students at the School of Dentistry, it is our extreme pleasure to extend congratulations and best wishes to our newest dentists, dental hygienists and dental specialists.

Today marks a significant career milestone in your life. You, and your families, have worked hard to get to today. It is a culmination of many years of intense personal commitment to achieve a goal. The beginning of this journey can be traced to the early and formative years of your education. One of the keys to your success was developing the ability to set near-term and longer-term goals. The ability to set and achieve goals will continue to be an important part of your professional development and clinical practice.

The pursuit of academic and clinical excellence is a lifelong commitment. The healthcare professions are rapidly changing and evolving. In addition to staying current with new and evolving technologies, there is a need to remain committed to our core mission of providing access to safe, high-quality patient care. Our patients must be at the very center of everything we do and always remember that our “quality of caring” is as equally important as the “quality of care” we provide.

You have made many friends along the way. Relationships matter – nurture your friendships and build your professional relationships. There are many opportunities to stay involved in our profession at the local, state and national level. Find a mentor – be a mentor. Your leadership will make a difference.

Never lose sight of the fact that life is about the journey – not about a destination. It is important to look at graduation as a beginning and not as an endpoint. I encourage you to recall how you felt when you first walked past the Pylons and entered the halls of our School. Never lose that passion, energy and excitement. Stay engaged and choose to be a lifelong learner.

Thank you for choosing West Virginia University and our School of Dentistry. We wish you all the best as you continue your journey.

As physicians and scientists, we share a greater purpose — to help ourselves and others heal.

Brené Brown, a researcher and author, reminds us that real courage requires vulnerability. Vulnerability to say, “I don’t know, but will find out” or “I will be authentic, even if I feel the pressure to play a certain role.” She goes on to find that being able to embrace the recognition of “enough” is very important — having enough, being enough, earning enough, and knowing enough. In the next stage of your professional and personal life, many you encounter will not feel this way. One of the most important opportunities you have in healing others is to help them recognize they are enough and deserve to be loved and cared about just like they are.

Your graduation is a time of great joy and pride, but is also a time of great transition. You are navigating many unknowns — an ongoing, ever-changing global pandemic, perhaps a new job, maybe a new city or state.

In these moments of uncertainty, I hope you ground yourself in community — a community of peers, professionals, family, and our larger Mountaineer family across the globe.

Great deeds are made up of small acts.

Like the starfish story, where a small child recognized that starfish that washed up on the beach from the night before would die if not placed back in the ocean. An adult wandered by and commented to the child that they were wasting their time, as there were too many starfish to get them back in the water. The child looked at the adult and said, “You may be right, but for the ones that I get back to the ocean, it will make a great difference.”

Impact is forged from taking time for positive action and reaction each day and in each small moment.

May those moments bring you great joy, built on a life of compassion and purpose. I hope West Virginia University has helped provide you with the foundation for both.

These are the qualities of great thinkers, healers and doctors that I see in each of you graduating today.

Godspeed Class of 2022. We are very proud of you.

Clay Marsh, M.D.

Michael L. J. Apuzzo is one of the world’s best known and respected neurosurgeons. He is the distinguished adjunct professor of neurosurgery in the Department of Neurosurgery at Yale Medical School, adjunct professor of neurosurgery in the Department of Neurosurgery at Weill/Cornell Medical College and Edwin M. Todd/Trent H. Wells, Jr., professor Emeritus of Neurological Surgery, Radiation Oncology, Biology and Physics at USC Keck School of Medicine.

He was educated at Yale College, Boston University, McGill's Royal Victoria Hospital and Yale School of Medicine. He served in the United States Naval Nuclear Submarine Service and was deployed on Polaris patrols for NATO to polar regions, the Mediterranean and Black seas. Later, in association with the NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, he served as medical consultant and research scientist during the first Viking Project for Mars landing in 1977.

He joined the faculty at the University of Southern California’s Keck School of Medicine in 1973. His career there was principally focused on disorders of the human cerebrum and the application of emerging technologies and progressive neurosciences in creative and innovative methods to establish the cutting edge of modernity over four decades. During that period of time, he pioneered areas of technology transfer, image directed stereotaxy, immunology, stereotaxic radiosurgery, microsurgery, navigation, endoscopy, modulation, OR design and operative simulation. He conceived, developed and “coined” areas of “minimal invasion,” “cellular and molecular surgery,” “functional neurorestoration” and “nanoneurosurgery.”

This work is documented in 800 publications, including 52 edited volumes and 14 monographs, a number of which are considered classics in the field.

Over a 25-year period, he held the positions of editor of the premier international journal Neurosurgery, establishing new dimensions in medical journalism and the dynamic use of the internet as a global vehicle for information dissemination and operative neurosurgery and world neurosurgery – singular offerings in the field.

An avid internationalist, he has received multiple honors and awards nationally and internationally during which he was lauded as the “principal architect of the reinvention of neurosurgery” and the “primary intellectual catalyst for the field.”

He served on advisory panels for the United States National Institutes of Health and held special advisory positions for three American presidents and the United States Congress.

He served as the neurological consultant to the USC Department of Athletics, the New York Football Giants and National Football League Commissioners – having a central role in advancing helmet design and revolutionizing head injury management.

His activities and collective body of work played a primary role in the reinvention of neurosurgery, its practice, scope and status in the global community – earning him iconic historical standing.
Commencement Speaker

David Pogue was the New York Times tech columnist for 13 years. Five years ago, he hopped over to Yahoo Finance — and now he’s back at the Times! He’s a four-time Emmy winner for his stories on “CBS Sunday Morning,” and a host of 17 science specials on “NOVA” on PBS.

Pogue is one of the world’s best-selling “how-to” authors, with more than 100 titles and 3 million copies in print. They include seven books in the “For Dummies” series, his own “Pogue’s Basics” series of essential tips and shortcuts, and the “Missing Manual” series of computer books.

He has won a Loeb Award for journalism and an honorary doctorate in music. He has been profiled on “48 Hours” and “60 Minutes.”

David Pogue graduated summa cum laude from Yale in 1985 with distinction in music, and he spent ten years conducting and arranging Broadway musicals in New York.

I am delighted to celebrate your achievements, especially after the past few years. Your hard work and perseverance are clear, and these qualities will serve you well as you begin your careers.

Nursing has never been an easy profession. COVID-19 has only exacerbated those challenges. But our nurses, our faculty and staff, and our students have all risen to the occasion. You have volunteered your time, your knowledge and your skills when they were needed most. I am grateful and I am so proud of you all.

On both your best days and your worst, I hope you’ll always remember why you joined the nursing profession — to make a difference in the lives of your patients. That’s why so many people feel nursing isn’t just a profession. It’s a calling.

Thank you for answering the call.

We celebrate your accomplishments as students, and we look forward to your successes as School of Nursing alumni. Once you’re a Mountaineer, you’re always a Mountaineer.

Dear New Doctors of Pharmacy and Doctors of Philosophy,

The faculty and staff of the School of Pharmacy are very proud of your accomplishments and excited for you to begin your professional careers. We are also indebted to your loved ones for helping you through this journey.

Commencement marks the culmination of your journey as a student and signifies a time to look forward to the opportunities ahead. The COVID-19 pandemic exemplified the critical importance of pharmacists in public health. In addition, the general public became more aware of the need for scientists and clinicians to identify critical health issues and save lives through the development and delivery of new therapeutics.

You likely played a role in WVU’s incredible response to the pandemic. Now, your greatest test going forward may be to find the area of practice or research that is most rewarding for you and beneficial to society — consistent with the roots of your degree from a land-grant institution. The best jobs may not be widely advertised, but ones created because someone believes in you or yourself.

Many of the traits we look for during interviews of potential students fall in line with the words found in the Boy Scout Law. I would like you to contemplate how you are: trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent.

One trait that is missing from those is persistence. You certainly needed it to earn your degree. Do not be afraid of failure, for you cannot achieve improving your profession and yourself without it. You have learned many skills to facilitate future success, but your ability to best utilize them will require persistence.

A snapshot of the Class of 2022 shows you come from all regions of West Virginia, multiple other states or countries, as well as various ethnicities and backgrounds. However, you all have been united by the University, the School and now the profession of pharmacy.

Never forget your “home amongst the hills,” as we will always be here to encourage your professional growth, commiserate in not-so-good times and celebrate your successes.

Sincerely,

William (Bill) Petros, PharmD, FCCP

CHRIST D. PONTE

Dr. Charles D. Ponte is professor of clinical pharmacy and family medicine in the Schools of Pharmacy and Medicine at West Virginia University.

Dr. Ponte’s career has focused on pharmacy education, the training of medical students and residents in family medicine and the provision of pharmaceutical care. Dr. Ponte is a board-certified pharmacotherapy specialist, is board-certified in advanced diabetes management and holds additional certifications in diabetes care and education and pain education. His practice interests include the management of diabetes mellitus and its complications, pain management and women’s health issues. He has authored numerous articles in a wide variety of professional journals and is an active lecturer.

He currently serves on the editorial boards of the Annals of Pharmacotherapy, Pharmacotherapy, the Journal of the American Pharmacists Association and serves as an advisor/consultant to the Pharmacist’s and Prescriber’s Letters.

He is a fellow of the American Society of Health-System Pharmacists, the American College of Clinical Pharmacy, the American Pharmaceutical Association and the Association of Diabetes Care and Education Specialists.

Dr. Ponte is a member of many professional and honorary organizations and has received many professional awards and honors including the 2003 APhA/APPMM Distinguished Achievement Award in Clinical/Pharmacotherapeutic Practice, the 2005 University of Connecticut School of Pharmacy Distinguished Alumnus Award (Academia Category) and the 2006 Distinguished Service Award.

He was elected into the National Academies of Practice (Academy of Pharmacy) in November 2007. In 2009, Dr. Ponte received the inaugural Academic Pain Educator of the Year Award from the American Society of Pain Educators. In 2011, Dr. Ponte was the recipient of the USP Award for an Innovative Response to a Public Health Challenge in recognition as a member of the 2010-2015 Medicare Model Guidelines Expert Panel.

In 2016, Dr. Ponte was selected as a Distinguished Alumnus of the Yale-New Haven Hospital pharmacy residency program. In 2019, Dr. Ponte received the Vice President’s Master Clinician Award from the WVU Health Sciences Center.
Dear Graduate,

We celebrate for two reasons. One of those reasons is likely obvious, as it is much deserved: it’s you – along with your collective success, marked by this milestone event and measured far beyond what is reflected solely in your transcript. It includes the many hours you’ve spent engaged in service and outreach; in the classroom, research field and lab; or working alongside a community partner. It encompasses your commitment, resilience and resolve, which fortified your ability to make it through some incredibly challenging years over the course of your academic journey. On commencement day, we celebrate you.

You may be surprised to learn, however, that the second reason for celebration is larger than you. It is what led you to the WVU School of Public Health, and it is what will carry you far beyond: your purpose.

Public health and purpose are the perfect complements. Purpose is shaped by intentionality – something by which public health is driven. As you graduate, the entire world now understands the purpose of public health, as the pandemic – and the numerous, complex issues and health disparities it amplified – has underscored a core public health fundamental: good health is not simply a matter of choice or genetics. Rather, it is impacted by the conditions in which people live, work and play. And your purpose is to improve those conditions.

You join your fellow Public Health alumni in a profession that believes deeply that good health is not a privilege of the few but is a basic human right for all people, regardless of their socioeconomic status, race, religion, gender identity, sexual orientation or country of origin.

Today, and every day forward, we celebrate your purpose.

Wherever your next step leads, continue following your dreams – never losing sight of the golden rule of life – and follow the path upstream to make your community, state and world a better place.

Congratulations and best wishes.

Congratulations, Graduates!

Let me be one of the first to officially welcome you to the WVU alumni family. After years of hard work and dedication, you’ve earned your degree from West Virginia University and I commend you for reaching this meaningful milestone.

Today marks a new beginning in your relationship with West Virginia University. You will soon learn that your Mountaineer experience extends far beyond graduation day; a part of your alma mater will always be with you. When you pass someone wearing a WVU hat in the airport or you read about the incredible accomplishments of a fellow graduate, you will most certainly feel a warm sense of pride and nostalgia for this special place.

As a member of the WVU family, I hope you will continue to use your time and talent to help future generations of students who will follow in your footsteps. Just as previous generations of alumni have extended a hand to help you, today I urge you to do the same. Here are a few examples of how you can help.

- Always display your favorite old gold and blue apparel proudly so that all know you are a Mountaineer.
- Join your local alumni association chapter to stay connected, network and volunteer.
- Keep in touch with your professors to stay up to date with what’s happening on campus and consider visiting to participate on a panel or make a class presentation.
- Serve as a mentor on WVU Connect and offer advice to students who might be interested in learning more about your passions and purpose, campus involvement, research or career path.
- Participate in the Old Gold, New Blue Program, helping to recruit prospective students considering a future at WVU.

To help you stay connected, we are providing you with a complimentary year of membership in the WVU Alumni Association as a graduation gift. I hope you’ll take advantage of our valuable resources and communications that will deepen your connection with West Virginia University. You can learn more about the WVU Alumni Association by visiting alumni.wvu.edu.

Wherever your Country Roads may lead you next, I’m sure you’ll find fellow Mountaineers who will make it feel like home. On behalf of a community of more than 200,000 living WVU graduates, congratulations on this important achievement. I look forward to helping you stay connected with our alma mater.

In Mountaineer Spirit,

Kevin Berry, ’94, ’95
Vice President of Alumni Relations
Life Member of the Alumni Association
