Alma Mater
by Louis Corson

Alma, our Alma Mater,
The home of Mountaineers.
Sing we of thy honor,
Everlasting through the years.
Alma, our Alma Mater,
We pledge in song to you.
Hail, all hail, our Alma Mater,
West Virginia “U”.
Congratulations from President Gee

Commencement is always a celebration of challenges conquered and opportunities awaiting.

After the past year’s struggles, it is especially joyous to gather once again and look toward a brighter future.

Grit and determination have seen you through this difficult time. But, as the word “commencement” implies, your real journey is now beginning.

Life is about finding your purpose and making sure your choices serve that purpose. Is your goal healing the sick? Inspiring others with your artistic vision? Shattering the status quo with the next high-tech innovation?

Whatever path you choose, Mountaineer perseverance will guide you to ever-higher summits.

You have much to celebrate. The unique skills and strengths you honed here will drive you onward.

The hopes and goodwill of 200,000 other West Virginia University graduates will accompany you.

And your own inner calling will lead you to the perfect destination.

Your purpose is calling. A brighter future is dawning.

Let’s go!

Sincerely,

E. Gordon Gee
President, West Virginia University

The Order of Augusta is awarded to a select group of each year’s WVU Foundation Outstanding Seniors. Those selected have shown superior scholarship, leadership and service as an undergraduate. This award, the highest given to a student by the University, is named for its historical significance in the state. Augusta was among the original names considered by the Legislature when the state seceded from Virginia in 1863.

Patrice A. Harris, MD, MA, a board-certified psychiatrist from Atlanta, has diverse experience as a private practicing physician, county public health officer, patient advocate and medical society lobbyist. Dr. Harris was the 174th President of the American Medical Association and the first African American woman elected to that position. Dr. Harris serves as the Medical Editor in Chief for EverydayHealth.com, and is also a visiting professor of psychiatry at Columbia University Vagelos College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Beyond the AMA she has held positions of leadership with the American Psychiatric Association, the Georgia Psychiatric Physicians Association, the Medical Association of Georgia, and The Big Cities Health Coalition, where she chaired this forum composed of leaders from America’s largest metropolitan health departments. She is a member of the Steering Committee of the Atlanta Regional Collaborative for Health Improvement (ARCHI) and the Board of the Georgia AIDS Coalition. She has also served on the Boards of Georgia NAMI and the Mental Health Association of Georgia.

Growing up in Bluefield, WV, Dr. Harris dreamt of entering medicine at a time when few women of color were encouraged to become physicians. Dr. Harris spent her formative years at West Virginia University, earning a BA in psychology, an MA in counseling psychology and, ultimately, a medical degree in 1992. It was during this time that her passion for helping children emerged, and she completed her psychiatry residency and fellowships in child and adolescent psychiatry and forensic psychiatry at the Emory University School of Medicine. She also served as the senior policy fellow at the Barton Child Law and Policy Center at the Emory University School of Law.

Two themes that govern Dr. Harris’s professional life are a passion to improve the lives of children and service to others. A recognized expert in children’s mental health and childhood trauma, Dr. Harris has led efforts on both local and national levels to integrate public health, behavioral health and primary care services with supports for employment, housing and education.
Dear Statler College of Engineering and Mineral Resources Class of 2021,

On behalf of the Statler College, congratulations on this outstanding achievement! Today, we celebrate all of your incredible accomplishments and look forward to the future. You have done the work, and now you have arrived at a new and very exciting beginning.

Through all of the adversities and challenges of this past year, you have remained dedicated and focused on your education. I want to thank you for your resilience, flexibility, and patience as we navigated uncertain times together. We have learned a lot about ourselves and pushed ourselves to new lengths, and these lessons will be critical for your future.

As much as graduation is a very personal achievement, we also celebrate the friends, family members, loved ones, and mentors who supported and encouraged you along this journey. Although this time has forced us apart, I believe that it has also unified us. Concluding your academic journey during a global pandemic is the ultimate accomplishment, and I couldn’t be prouder of each and every one of you.

At the Statler College, we strive to uphold the importance of education, celebrate diversity, and always treat one another with respect. I hope that you hold these values close to you and carry them with you as you navigate your own path in life. Although this is a celebration of the end of your academic journey, it is also the moment when a new chapter of your life is beginning.

Each one of you has left your mark on the Statler College, and I look forward to seeing the mark you leave on our world. Now more than ever, this world needs your talent, courage, and determination to make a difference.

To the Class of 2021: The world is yours to make better. I am confident in your abilities and immensely proud of your successes thus far. I know we are in good hands. Always remember, the Statler College will always be a part of you, just as you will always be a part of the Statler College.

Mike John is Founder, President and CEO of Northeast Natural Energy (NNE), a West Virginia based upstream natural gas company formed in 2009. Northeast Natural Energy is the 6th largest natural gas producer in the State of West Virginia. Northeast Natural Energy employs close to 50 professionals with offices in both Morgantown and Charleston. The company has drilled over 100 horizontal Marcellus shale wells that produce more than 400 million cubic feet per day of clean burning natural gas. The amount of natural gas produced daily by Northeast is enough to heat and power 5,000 homes every day for a year.

In addition to the company’s success growing its natural gas production, Northeast has been a national leader regarding continued education projects describing how the industry provides measurable environmental improvement. For example, Northeast Natural Energy operates a transparent well research project just outside of Morgantown involving WVU, the US Department of Energy and Ohio State University. The project has resulted in hundreds of scientific publications written and presented to educate the scientific community and the general public about natural gas development.

This year, NNE is partnering with the State of West Virginia to do the water filtration work necessary to bring Deckers Creek—which has been dead for generations due to acid mine drainage-- back to life. The work Northeast is spearheading will also greatly enhance the water quality of the Monongahela River, which is a source of fresh water for many downstream communities.

Prior to starting NNE, Mr. John served as Vice President of Operations of the Eastern Division for Chesapeake Energy from 2005 to 2009. Prior to joining Chesapeake Energy, Mr. John was a senior executive occupying various roles at Columbia Natural Resources/Triana Energy where he also served on the Company’s Board of Directors. He served in that capacity until Columbia Natural Resources was sold to Chesapeake in November of 2005. Mr. John is a native of Weston, WV and a 1981 graduate of West Virginia University with a degree in Petroleum Engineering. Mike lives in Charleston, WV with his wife, Denise, and serves on the Elder Board at Bible Center Church in Charleston. Mike has also served on the Board of Directors of the WVU Alumni Association.
Honorary Degree Recipient

Robert O'Dell Orders Jr.

Robert (Bob) Orders is CEO of Orders Construction Company, Inc. Orders Construction Company was founded in 1964 and was primarily a bridge contractor in West Virginia. Since then, the company has expanded its scope of service to include industrial/mechanical construction, heavy highway construction and utility construction.

Under Orders, the company has expanded to perform work in Virginia, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Kentucky and Maryland. Now in its 57th year as a family-owned business, the company services a wide range of markets and industries that make up an expensive portfolio totaling more than $1 billion of work performed. The company’s safety program, ingenuity and large bonding capacity make it a choice contractor for both public and private clients.

Bob and his partners have formed Central Contracting a heavy excavation and site work contractor, Paramount Builders a commercial building contractor, and Allied Development Group a sitework and utility contractor.

Orders graduated from West Virginia University with a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering in 1972. He has been registered as a professional engineer in West Virginia, Virginia and Maryland. In the past, Orders has served as president of the Contractors Association of West Virginia and as a trustee for the Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary.

Currently he is a member of the Board of Directors of the West Virginia University Foundation, is a trustee of The Nature Conservancy of West Virginia, and is a member of the Board of Directors of The Greater Kanawha Valley Foundation.

Orders was inducted into the West Virginia Business Hall of Fame in 2017.

Bob has three children and eight grandchildren and resides in Charleston, West Virginia with his wife, Ann.
Graduation 2021, not just memorable, but historic!

As we gather for an outdoor celebration of your achievements, please know that we are proud of you. We are proud of how you have persevered, developed, and grown. Please know you have inspired us to persevere. We know that the world you are graduating into is a world that needs the best you. You graduate into a world that has experienced unprecedented changes. These unprecedented changes truly effect the entire world, a world that needs culture and the arts more than ever before. The arts are needed because the arts serve multiple roles. A few of those roles: the arts reflect society; the arts inform society, and the arts are a salve for society’s wounds.

That statement may seem dramatic, but drama is part of our nature. The arts have always filled multiple roles. A hundred years ago the world was just recovering from a “Great War” when the last pandemic hit. That period was followed by the roaring twenties, a time when artistic creation flourished. Since that time all great social disruptions have been accompanied by periods of increased creative activity. Be it World War II, the Civil Rights Movement, The Aids Epidemic, September 11th or Hurricane Katrina, the arts have served as a chronicle and healer. So, I charge you to lead and to create a sincere and relevant “voice” for this moment.

I am thrilled we can be together though we are still months away from the time when we can share hugs and selfies. We are close to that moment, but that moment is not now. Now is the time for you to bask in the glory of achievement. Now is the time to know we will miss you (so please visit!). Now is the time to share the most important piece of advice you will ever get from me. You are artists in the 21st Century. You will attend many events. At these events there will be free food. EAT IT!!!!!!!!!! (Because they did not pay you enough so stuff your face!!)

Born and raised in West Virginia, artist Ann Magnuson has consistently referenced her love of her home state in song, written and spoken word, visual and performance art, and theater.

Ann traverses the creative landscape like few others: as an actor performing in Hollywood blockbusters, off-Broadway plays, TV sitcoms and indie films; as a singer, songwriter and recording artist fronting various bands; as a journalist writing for numerous publications; and as a visual and performing artist presenting her original theater and performance art pieces worldwide.

Ann was a seminal part of the legendary 1980s downtown New York art and music scene and was guest curator for the recent Museum of Modern Art retrospective of Club 57, the infamous neo-Dada cabaret she managed and whose members included artists Keith Haring and Jean-Michel Basquiat.

Inducted into the West Virginia Music Hall of Fame in 2018, she has been in many bands, including folk trio Bleaker Street Incident, heavy metal band Vulcan Death Grip and the beloved psycho-psychedelic cult band Bongwater. Her solo albums include “The Luv Show,” “Pretty Songs & Ugly Stories” and “Dream Girl”.

Magnuson is currently working with the internationally renowned music consortium dublab while continuing to create fabric-based visual art (recently exhibited in Los Angeles at Matrushka and Gavlak Gallery).

“I am most inspired by my Grandma Magnuson,” Ann says, “who taught me how to sew during childhood summers in Morgantown. In fact, I used Grandma’s surreal homemade dolls as puppets in “WTF 2020,” the YouTube series I created with filmmaker Adam Dugas about coping with the anxieties created by the COVID-19 pandemic.”
Dear Graduates of the College of Education and Human Services,

Commencement—what a wonderful word, for all it represents both past and future. On behalf of the entire faculty and staff of the College of Education and Human Services we are incredibly proud of your achievements and wish you great success and happiness as you move forward.

Congratulations on the culmination of all your hard work and dedication. You are committed, compassionate, collaborative, and well-prepared. The friendships you’ve formed, lessons you’ve learned, and values you’ve shaped will be with you as you take the next step in your life’s journey.

The late Nelson Mandela noted that “Education is the most powerful weapon you can use to change the world.” I hope that you will always remember that a better future is yours to create. In these everchanging times, you have the unique opportunity to reshape our world using all that you’ve learned here. The need for educators and helping professionals who can improve the lives of others is greater than ever before, and although your chosen professions may look different now than they did even a few months ago, I am confident that you are prepared for whatever challenges are ahead.

Thank you for choosing West Virginia University and the College of Education and Human Services. Thank you for respecting and embracing what our faculty offered—and thank you for teaching us in turn. Know that we hope to hear from you in the future. It is a privilege to learn of the adventures of our alumni, to travel beside you in spirit, and to welcome you back on many and varied returns.

So please keep your sincerity, integrity, kindness, and resilience – and remember wherever you go, you will always be a Mountaineer.

With happiest wishes,

Dear College of Law Class of 2021,

Commencement is a day to celebrate your accomplishments, to reflect on your journeys to this point, and to hope for a bright future. On behalf of the faculty, staff, and alumni of the College of Law, I congratulate you on your graduation from law school. On this day, you join generations of proud alumni who have used their legal educations to lead satisfying and productive lives of professional service. I have no doubt you will be worthy bearers of that tradition.

You have much to celebrate. Law school is not easy. You persevered through all the normal challenges, plus the additional challenges of a global pandemic. You have every right to be proud of yourselves, and I hope that remembering what you accomplished on this day will give you strength in the future when you need it. I know your families and friends are immensely proud of you, and so are we.

Today is also a day to reflect on your time on Law School Hill. You have learned much about the law and about yourselves, and you have made friendships that will last a lifetime. You have become a part of our College of Law family, and we are eager to support you in any way we can in the future.

Your hopes and dreams brought you to law school, and they carried you through law school. I hope your futures will unfold smoothly and brightly, yet none of us knows where the future will lead us. All we can do is prepare ourselves to be ready to walk through whatever doors are opened to us and to seize opportunities with open minds and spirits. We are confident you are ready to contribute no matter where your journeys take you.

I know you are going to serve your clients well and to make the world a little more just every day. It’s been a privilege to have you with us.

Good luck, and keep in touch!

Best wishes,

John E. Taylor

Elliot G. Hicks is a trail-blazing West Virginia attorney inspired by the lawyers who helped lead the Civil Rights Movement.

Hicks was the first African American elected to the Executive Committee of the Student Body at Washington and Lee University, although he ultimately earned his B.A. (1978) and his J.D. (1981) from West Virginia University.

Hicks spent the earliest part of his law career as a solo practitioner before joining Kay Casto & Chaney in 1984. At the time, he was just the second lawyer of color in the state to be hired by a large firm. In 1998, he became the first African American president of the West Virginia State Bar Board of Governors.

Hicks developed a reputation as a top litigator with expertise in product liability defense, premises liability law, employment law, insurance law, and higher education. Over the course of his career, he was a partner at several firms, including Spilman, Thomas & Battle.

His current focus is on mediation and arbitration at his own firm, Hicks Resolutions. He is a member of the National Academy of Distinguished Neutrals, an organization of leading mediators and arbitrators. He was inducted as a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers, elected to the Federation of Defense and Corporate Counsel, the American Bar Foundation and the West Virginia Bar Foundation.

Hicks has long been a leader in public service. He has served on the Kanawha County Housing and Redevelopment Authority and the board of the Legal Aid Society. He now serves on the West Virginia Humanities Council and the Daymark Foundation Board, among others.

For six years, Hicks was on the West Virginia Bar Foundation board, including serving as chairman of the IOLTA Committee that administers millions of dollars for legal services to the poor.

Two former West Virginia governors (Earl Ray Tomblin and Joe Manchin) appointed Hicks to the Board of Governors of Concord University, which he chaired for four years. Two other former governors (Cecil Underwood and Bob Wise) appointed him to the Higher Education Policy Commission, where he was vice-chairman.

In 2019, the Martin Luther King, Jr. State Commission presented Hicks with the Governor’s Living the Dream Award for his work as a champion of justice, scholarship and civil rights.

I hope that you will use these lessons to help you enter the next phase of your life’s journey as a more nimble, powerful and creative person.

Always wear your old gold and blue with pride and make the world a better place by promoting the fundamental values of our college: Application of knowledge; Diversity, Equity and Inclusion; Collaboration and Discovery; Community Engagement; and Well-being.

Celebrate today with those close to you and don’t forget to thank important others for their support and encouragement. I hope you have treasured your time in CPASS as much as we have loved having you as a student.

2021 Graduates,

You have learned and experienced a great many things during your education here at West Virginia University. You’ve adapted to a changing landscape impressively. The highest congratulations are in order. Today, you have shown yourselves to be true Mountaineers. You’ve made it to the top of a mountain.

“Onward up many a frightening creek, though your arms may get sore and your sneakers may leak. On and on you will hike, And I know you’ll hike far and face up to your problems whatever they are. ...You’re off to Great Places! Today is your day! Your mountain is waiting, So... get on your way!”

Mountaineers, your next mountain is waiting.

It’s a funny thing about mountains. Everyone wants to move or climb them; they see them as obstacles to be conquered or overcome.

But mountains were never meant to be conquered. They were meant to be explored. They were meant to fascinate and open our eyes to new places and ways.

A mountain holds trees and trails, difficulties and darkness, flowers and springs. It holds the entirety of a journey, of time well-spent and life well-lived. It’s exciting - and it should be. It’s terrifying - and it should be.

Remember those trees and trails, the difficulties and darkness, flowers and springs. Remember the all-nighters, the 20- page papers, the F’s and A’s, the C- presentations. Looking down on it from the mountaintop, it’s beautiful, isn’t it? The funny thing is, it always was.

Oh, the places you’ve been.

What you’re looking at now is the next mountain, the beginning of a glorious climb. It looks enormous, majestic, full of trees and trails, difficulties and darkness, flowers and springs.

One day, probably when you’re on the top of this next mountain, you’ll look back and see the beauty of it all. Rather, I hope that day is today. As you press onto the next challenge, the next mountain, I hope you go forth understanding what you’re about to face will be and is now beautiful. Oh, the places you will go.

Congratulations, graduates. Congratulations, Mountaineers. You’re off to great places. Today is your day. Your next mountain is waiting, So... get on your way!

Dear Eberly College of Arts and Sciences Graduates:

It is my distinct pleasure to congratulate you on this most important accomplishment. A college education, either undergraduate or graduate, is a special gift. You have rightfully earned it—and for the graduates of 2020 and 2021, this gift has profound meaning.

You need dedication, perseverance and sacrifice—both academic and personal—to complete collegiate studies at any time. However, over the last 14 months, you have triumphed under extraordinarily challenging circumstances. As you reflect on your years at WVU, I urge you to also celebrate how the adversity you have faced has prepared you for the myriad opportunities ahead.

First, in spite of the obstacles you faced, and perhaps because of them, you have developed resilience. While uncertainty and stress came in wave after wave, you held on to your goals. When the pandemic threatened to upend all aspects of everyday life, you did not lose heart; you overcame and completed your studies.

You have also developed wisdom. This skill set includes maturity and ingenuity, and though it is connected to academic success it is not quite the same. Through wisdom, you apply the process of learning—and, in your case, adaptation to new methods of learning—in creative and innovative ways.

Finally, you have come to learn the importance of gratitude. You have relied on one another, your families and your support systems. Appreciation of kindnesses large and small will inevitably lead you to be more compassionate and generous. I have no doubt that this generation of graduates will be paying it forward as mentors, leaders and philanthropists in the years to come.

My advice is to use these gifts wisely, for both your own betterment and also for the world around you. Serve your communities and pave the way for those who walk alongside you, as well as those who follow behind you.

The classes of 2020 and 2021 are like no other. You will be problem-solvers and change agents, and I cannot wait to see what you will accomplish next. Please know that the entire Eberly College community is so very proud and grateful for having the opportunity to know you and learn from you.

Congratulations, Eberly Graduates!

Honorary Degree Recipient

CHARLES KENNETH SULLIVAN

Ken Sullivan was born and raised in the mountains of Virginia, with Appalachian roots going back more than 200 years. He was educated in American history at the University of Virginia, the University of Rochester and the University of Pittsburgh.

He retired as director of the West Virginia Humanities Council and before that was editor of Goldenseal, the quarterly magazine of West Virginia traditional culture. At the Humanities Council he directed the purchase and restoration of the historic 1836 MacFarland-Hubbard House, a National Register property and one of Charleston oldest houses. He worked with the Humanities Council board and staff to mobilize financial support for hundreds of humanities projects throughout West Virginia.

Ken was the editor and principal creator of the West Virginia Encyclopedia in its print and online versions. Besides the West Virginia Encyclopedia he has edited or authored several other books and numerous articles and book reviews. He served on the editorial board and as a contributor to the 2006 Encyclopedia of Appalachia and currently serves on the editorial board of West Virginia History journal.

He received the 2017 Vandalia Award from the State of West Virginia, and the 2005 Folklife Scholar Award from Fairmont State University. He is a member of the West Virginia nominating committee for the University of Virginia Jefferson Scholars program.

Ken serves on the Charleston Historic Landmarks Commission and each year joins other members of the West Virginia Faculty Merit Foundation to select West Virginia’s Professor of the Year. He is one of two West Virginians to have been an officer and board member of the National Federation of State Humanities Council.

Ken lives in Charleston with his wife Debra Sullivan, and is delighted that his son, daughter-in-law and two grandchildren live nearby.
Dear Class of 2021,

Today, a new journey begins.

Even if you don’t know exactly where that journey will take you, know that you are ready for it because of what you’ve learned during your years at West Virginia University.

Each of you learned more than you ever bargained for over the last year – and you learned it fast. In the true pioneering spirit of the Chambers College, you pivoted and successfully learned to navigate the unexpected.

I often say that our Chambers College students are the future of work, and that’s never been more true than it is today. A bright future lies ahead – and that future needs you. It needs your perseverance, your energy and your adaptability. It needs your hope and your aspirations to change the world for the better. It needs you to be the next generation of creators, entrepreneurs and business leaders who will confront the problems of today and solve the problems of tomorrow. It needs you to value and champion diversity so that you can break through barriers and do impossible things – and so that you can inspire others to do impossible things, too.

The jobs of tomorrow will favor those who are prepared to innovate and adapt on their feet. Chambers College students are well-prepared to do just that, as you have risen to the challenge together of navigating through the final year of your college education with flexibility and tenacity.

Each of you has a blank slate in front of you, and that will give you the ability to transform business. Companies will be rethinking how they work, and they will look to this generation to make an impact and shape a new course for all functional areas of business and organizations.

My hope is that you never stop dreaming big. Know that I am so proud of each and every one of you, and I can’t wait to hear how you’re changing the world.

Go out there and do the impossible – it’s what Mountaineers do best!

Best wishes,

Javier Reyes

As you embark on your next journey, be patient, stay positive and take comfort in knowing your College of Media experience has honed your professionalism, curiosity, determination, creativity, work ethic and skill. Remember that the media industry is diverse and ever-changing, and our work is more important than ever, as we help people make sense of the world, discern fact from fiction, build community and make informed decisions. Work hard and find joy, purpose and motivation in your profession, knowing there will be opportunities for you to use your education and skills in new ways over the years.

You will undoubtedly face obstacles and make mistakes along the way, but don’t let that stop you from remaining curious and brave. Exercise your Mountaineer resiliency, and continue to demonstrate that media professionals are trustworthy, fair and ethical. Rely on your professional knowledge and experience and listen to your heart.

I trust your time with us at West Virginia University has been one of self-discovery and growth, where you’ve learned what motivates and inspires you and where you have both excelled and struggled. I hope that the friendships and connections you’ve made at WVU go on to inspire you long after graduation, and I hope you’ll stay in touch.

Class of 2021, we will miss you! Remember you will always have a second home “among the hills” at the Reed College of Media and a Mountaineer family who wishes you all the best.

Let’s go!

Sincerely,

Diana Martinelli

We are so proud of your accomplishments and perseverance in achieving your goals during one of the most disordered times in our nation's history. You remained focused on your challenging educational program despite months of COVID-19 pandemic, social, and political turbulence. We have collectively navigated the often-uncharted waters since March of 2020; I, as well as the faculty and staff, are tremendously proud to see everyone complete their respective programs and graduate today. Your commitment and patience as we resolved many unforeseen issues during your final months of academic and clinical work were exemplary. Uncertainties were many - resuming clinical operations, lock-downs impacting our patients, and reverting to virtual teaching methods, yet you met each challenge brilliantly, making you ready for anything as you embark on the next stage of your careers.

We want to recognize and thank you for your resiliency, professionalism, adaptability, and, most of all, trust. These and other traits you displayed allowed the school to implement and deliver the educational program necessary to deem you competent, enabling you to transition to the next chapter of your professional careers confidently. You and your families have so much to be proud of as you celebrate graduation. You have worked hard for many years, and I hope you use your vast array of experiences to make a valued, lasting impact on our profession.

We hope that you will look back fondly on your time here and stay in touch. We genuinely want to know how you are doing, help cheer you on, and support you in your professional journey.

The Greeks have a tradition when a person achieves something of note – they shout “AXIOS,” which means “he/she is worthy” of the achievement. I want to thank your class for being my first graduates as the interim dean of our school; you made my job so much easier. To you all, on behalf of the entire SOD community, we proclaim “AXIOS”!

Today is a day of transition.

The ending of your School of Medicine journey and the beginning of a new adventure in the workforce, graduate school, or residency and beyond. This is true of every chapter of your life. All endings only open the door to new beginnings.

This moment of celebration is the culmination of years of hard work. It’s a time to celebrate, but to also reflect on the lessons learned in this very unusual year.

As healers and problem solvers, we know the answer to a problem is rarely cut and dry. More often than not, we start by eliminating possibilities and adjusting our analysis and hypothesis to approach the answer.

The search for the answer is the true process of medicine.

It’s the lessons you’ve learned in the classroom, techniques you’ve applied in the clinic, and relationships you’ve developed with your community. It’s knowing you are more powerful working together than problem-solving alone.

It may not seem it right now, but we can feel the groundswell of change and a new energy that many on earth are contributing to. George Bernard Shaw wrote, “You see things; and you say “Why?” But I dream things that never were; and I say “Why not?”

Why not indeed.

Through this series of changes, there are new openings to commit ourselves to collaboration and community. To wholeness and unity. To meaningful change. We are phase shifting from a world of fear and scarcity to one of love and abundance. I believe crisis breeds compassion.

I trust in the training our graduates have received to become not only healthcare providers, but “whole” care providers.

I trust you and your understanding of safety and wellness. But, more over I trust you’ve learned valuable life lessons that will serve you well not only in times of great uncertainty and change, but in the moments when you have time to be and to breathe.

This day of commencement, this day of celebration is such a moment. Be. Breathe. Celebrate.

And don’t be afraid to be the shining light to help others. Change the world, especially for those that you love.

Shine bright and remember, we are your home.

“Let us never consider ourselves finished nurses … we must be learning all of our lives.” — Florence Nightingale

Dear School of Nursing graduates,

This is an extraordinary time for nursing. The need for experienced, skilled and talented nurses, at all levels, has never been greater. This year, we have seen our colleagues on the front lines of an unprecedented pandemic. They are rising to the challenge because, simply put, that is what nurses do.

Our faculty and students provided thousands upon thousands of COVID-19 vaccinations throughout the state. They also provided welcome conversation to those who may have been alone in their homes for quite some time, gave a gentle elbow tap to their colleagues who had worked or volunteered countless hours or simply provided an ear to listen to someone who needed support: nursing is more than just the clinical application, it is being there, in many ways, when our communities need us the most.

For our new graduates, I am sure you are anxious as to what the future holds. I am more than confident you are ready for anything that comes your way. You have had some of the best nurses in the country as your instructors and the long days and nights, the clinical shifts in person and online have prepared you well.

Congratulations on your graduation and this outstanding achievement! On behalf of the entire School of Nursing, I wish you continued success in your nursing careers. We look forward to celebrating with you your future nursing accomplishments and will continue to be proud of you as a WVU School of Nursing alumnus.

Sincerely,

On behalf of the School of Pharmacy faculty and staff, we are incredibly proud of your accomplishments and excited for you to begin your professional careers. We are also indebted to your loved ones for helping you through this journey.

Commencement marks the culmination of your journey at the School, but it also signifies a time to look forward to the opportunities ahead. You are now joining a group of medical professionals referred to as the most widely accessible. The public and the health care system need your innovation, leadership and collaborative skills.

Your greatest test going forward will be to find the area of practice that is most rewarding for you and beneficial to society - consistent with the roots of your degree from a land-grant institution and similar to your incredible work providing COVID-19 vaccinations. The best jobs may not be widely advertised, but created because someone believes in you or you in yourself.

Many of the traits we look for during interviews of potential students fall in line with the words found in the Boy Scout Law. I would like you to contemplate how you are: trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent.

One trait that is missing from those is persistence. You certainly needed that trait to earn your degree, particularly amid a pandemic! Do not be afraid of failure, for you cannot achieve improving your profession and yourself without it. You have learned many skills to facilitate future success, but your ability to best utilize them will require persistence.

A snapshot of the Class of 2021 shows you come from all regions of West Virginia, multiple other states or countries, as well as various ethnicities and backgrounds; however you all have been united by this University, this School, and now the profession of pharmacy.

Never forget your “home amongst the hills,” as we will always be here to encourage your professional growth, commiserate in not so good times, and celebrate your successes.

Sincerely,

William (Bill) Petros, PharmD, FCCP

Dear Graduates,

Together, you’ve overcome an unprecedented wave of challenges, despite being apart for more than a year in many unexpected ways. I am both proud and amazed by what you have accomplished – not only over the course of the pandemic, but throughout your entire time at the School of Public Health. Your innovative relentlessness and steadfast commitment are defining marks of a Mountaineer that will serve you well in every aspect of your life, especially as a public health professional.

As you graduate, the entire world now understands the critical role of public health, as the pandemic has amplified one of its core fundamentals: good health is not simply a matter of choice or genetics. Rather, it is impacted by the conditions in which people live, work and play. You have committed to improving those conditions, and for that, I am grateful. You join your fellow WVU Public Health alumni in a profession that believes deeply that good health is not a privilege of the few, but is a basic human right for all people, regardless of their socioeconomic status, race, religion, gender identity, sexual orientation or country of origin.

Thank you for choosing West Virginia University as the place to shape, define and exemplify your purpose. And to our faculty and staff, the family members and friends of our graduates, and the many partners across our state and beyond: thank you for investing in our students through your guidance, mentorship and support. As author and inspirational speaker Simon Sinek asserts, “together, each of us can change our world for the better.” Our graduates are poised to change the world as a result of your willingness to support them along their journey.

Class of 2021, wherever your next step leads, continue following your dreams – never losing sight of the golden rule of life – and follow the path upstream to make your community, state and world a better place.

Congratulations and best wishes.

Congratulations from the WVU Alumni Association

Congratulations, Graduates!

Your years of hard work and dedication have finally paid off. After many sleepless nights, stressful final exams, and your fair share of Zoom classes, you have earned your degree from West Virginia University. On behalf of the WVU Alumni Association, I applaud you for reaching this significant milestone.

You will soon learn that your West Virginia University experience does not end with graduation; a part of your alma mater will always be with you. When you see a flying WV on a car in the parking lot or when you pass someone wearing a WVU hat in the airport, you will feel an overwhelming sense of pride for being a part of something bigger. You are a Mountaineer for life.

As you embark on the next phase of your life during this time of trial and uncertainty, carry with you the lessons of the past few months. If the COVID-19 global pandemic has taught us anything, it is that we cannot take what we have for granted. We must appreciate our family, friends, and loved ones more than ever. We must be flexible in the face of adversity, and we must be caring for the sake of the vulnerable amongst us. There is strength in unity. You are now a part of a growing community of more than 200,000 Mountaineers across the globe, and I assure you that wherever country roads may lead you next, your alumni family will be there to tackle whatever challenge you face next. You will always have your Mountaineer family that has grown over the course of your time here, and you will always have the people at the Alumni Association to support you on the journey ahead.

To help you stay connected, we are providing you with a complimentary year of membership to the WVU Alumni Association as a graduation gift. I encourage you to join your local alumni chapter, engage with fellow Mountaineers on WVU Connect (wvuconnect.com), and take advantage of our valuable services and communications that will continue your connection with West Virginia University. You can learn more about your year of free membership to the WVU Alumni Association and how we serve you by visiting alumni.wvu.edu.

I am proud of you and your fellow graduates, and I am eager to help you remain connected with our alma mater.
