ALMA MATER

Alma, our Alma Mater,
The home of Mountaineers.
Sing we of thy honor,
Everlasting through the years.
Alma, our Alma Mater,
We pledge in song to you.
Hail, all hail, our Alma Mater,
West Virginia “U.”

—Louis Corson
Dear Graduates:

Congratulations! You have worked hard to reach this day – the day you become a graduate of West Virginia University.

Your hard work, perseverance, and enthusiasm for learning helped to get you to this point. With these qualities and the knowledge and skills acquired at WVU, you can achieve great things.

To families and friends who are with us today to celebrate – thank you! You have played a critical role in helping students succeed in college, and you share credit for helping our students reach this monumental point in their lives.

Graduates, you now belong to our worldwide alumni family of 180,000. Please stay in touch with us, and wear your flying WV with pride wherever your dreams may take you.

Please visit us often. You always have a home here at WVU – where we are united in Mountaineer spirit.

Best wishes for continued success. We are proud to call you one of our own.

Let’s Go Mountaineers!

Sincerely,

James P. Clements, Ph.D.
President
Dear Graduates:

Graduation is always a special celebration among Mountaineers! Today, you join more than 180,000 graduates who proudly represent their alma mater all over the world. It is truly a special day for you, and for us, as we welcome you into our alumni family.

And although you may be beginning a new journey today, you will always have a home at WVU -- the beautiful Erickson Alumni Center -- and a lifetime connection to the University through the WVU Alumni Association. We hope you will take advantage of the many benefits and programs we have to offer, including:

* A strong network of chapters throughout the country and world. Our more than 100 chapters and constituent groups provide professional and social networking opportunities, career advice, volunteer activities, and opportunities to reconnect with your fellow Mountaineers.

* The Mountaineer Connection, www.mountaineerconnection.com, is your one-stop location for news/events, a WVU e-mail address, and other information. It’s also a place where you can update your personal information and share information with classmates.

* Visit us at http://alumni.wvu.edu for information about alumni events, stories on our graduates, benefit information, and so much more!

You are forever a Mountaineer, and we look forward to seeing you again soon! Let’s Go Mountaineers!

In Mountaineer Spirit,

Stephen L. Douglas

DIPLOMAS
Today, graduates will receive a West Virginia University diploma cover as they are individually recognized on-stage. Diplomas will be mailed to graduates in the weeks following the ceremonies. Please contact the Office of the University Registrar at (304) 293-5355 or registrar@mail.wvu.edu if you have any questions.

GOLD AND BLUE STUDENT AMBASSADORS
Gold and Blue Student Ambassadors will be on-site to assist you as you park and make your way to the various venues. If you have questions along the way, be sure to stop and ask—they’ll be happy to assist you. They can be identified by their khaki pants and polo shirts with Gold and Blue Student Ambassador insignia and name tag.

DISABILITY-RELATED ACCOMMODATIONS
If you made arrangements with WVU’s Office of Disability Services, please follow the instructions you were provided before arriving at your Commencement ceremony. If you did not make arrangements prior to the event, please see a Gold and Blue Student Ambassador who will assist you. Please note that accessible seating is limited and available on a first-come, first-served basis.

GRADUATE ARRIVAL
We recommend that graduates arrive 1 hour prior to the start of their ceremonies. This will allow for sufficient time for check in and line up.

PHOTOGRAPHY
West Virginia University is pleased to announce that it has partnered with GradImages to capture the special memories of Commencement Weekend. A photograph of each student will be taken as he/she crosses the stage. Additional shots will also be offered, depending on the venue.

Following Commencement Weekend, graduates will be sent an electronic copy and hard copy of their photo proofs. All electronic communication will be private and secure. Electronic proofs can be expected within 24 hours of the conclusion of each ceremony, and you can expect your order to arrive within 5-7 days of placing the order. Electronic proofs will be sent to the e-mail address indicated by the graduate. For complete information, please visit www.gradimages.com.

DECORUM & COURTESIES
West Virginia University asks that all guests remain in their designated seating areas during the ceremony. Due to security and safety concerns, guests are not permitted to approach the stage to take personal photos, present gifts to, or congratulate their graduates. We appreciate your cooperation. We also ask that you refrain from using air horns or other noise-making devices as the graduates are recognized individually. It is important to each family to hear their graduate’s name called. Graduates are required to remain with their class through the duration of the ceremony. Also, please turn your cell phone to ‘silent’ during the ceremony.

FLORAL SALES
Flowers will be available for purchase on-site at the three primary commencement venues: the Coliseum, Creative Arts Center, and the Morgantown Event Center. A variety of options will be available for under $30 including single, three, and half dozen roses and a colorful spring bouquet, and they will come in custom blue and gold packaging. Cash only. Proceeds will benefit West Virginia University’s Horticulture Club and Plant and Soil Sciences Club.

LOST AND FOUND
Following the ceremonies, inquiries about lost and found items should be directed to 304-293-7132. Unclaimed items will be retained for 90 days and then donated to an appropriate outlet.

EMERGENCY INFORMATION
In the case of an emergency, event staff will guide guests and graduates to the nearest exit. If medical attention is needed, EMS is on-site and available to assist. Please seek out a Gold and Blue Student Ambassador or other event or University staff so they may contact the detachment.

FEEDBACK
Following Commencement Weekend, a survey will be posted at http://graduation.wvu.edu to gather your feedback. West Virginia University encourages graduates, participants, and guests to complete the online form. Event organizers have been able to make improvements and implement several suggestions based on input given in past surveys.
THE SEAL
West Virginia University’s seal was adopted by the WVU Board of Regents on June 15, 1869. The center of the seal includes an outline of the campus (then only Woodburn Circle), hills behind the buildings to reflect the institution’s stability, and a rising sun to indicate its prosperity.

The motto in the inner circle in Greek translates to: “Add to your faith virtue and to virtue knowledge” (from 2 Peter 1:5 in the King James Bible). The outer circle in Latin translates to: “Seal of the West Virginia University. Established 7 February, 1867.” The Regents’ original, handwritten resolution adopting the seal is located in the University Archives in the WVU Wise Library.

THE MACE
The mace is a symbolic tradition that originated during the Middle Ages. The ornamental staff of authority is brought to the platform by the University Marshal who, to signify the beginning of the ceremony, taps it thrice and places it in the holder. The mace used in official ceremonies at West Virginia University was handcrafted by a WVU professor. It represents the official authority of the University president and precedes him or her at academic ceremonies, including Commencement and inaugurations. When the president is not in attendance, smaller batons are used to signify the designation of authority.

MARSHALS
The tradition of academic marshals comes from storied English universities. The Grand Marshal is the chief protocol officer who coordinates the ceremonial traditions of Commencement, including the processional and recessional. The Grand Marshal is also responsible for the school’s relics, including the mace and batons. University marshals are typically members of the faculty body. Schools and colleges may also select their own faculty and student marshals to help facilitate their individual ceremonies.

ACADEMIC PROCESSIONAL AND REGALIA
The sequence of the processional is as follows: members of the platform party, deans, faculty, degree candidates, honored guests, and presiding officer, such as the University president or provost. The history of the academic regalia worn today at American college exercises dates back in its essential features to the Middle Ages. The oldest universities of northern Europe evolved from ecclesiastical institutions, and during the early days, both faculty and students were regarded as part of the clergy. Hence they wore clerical garb, largely borrowed from the monastic dress of their day, not merely on special occasions, but as their regular costume.

The head-covering of the academic costume was developed from the skullcap worn by the clergy in cold weather to protect their tonsured heads. In the universities this skullcap acquired a point on top, which gradually evolved into a tassel. The bonnet with tassel is still worn by some; however, for the most part it has been replaced by the more familiar mortarboard.

The gown worn today seems to have been borrowed from the habit worn by Benedictine monks. No trimming is found on the bachelor’s and master’s gowns. For those holding doctoral degrees, the gown is faced down the front and trimmed on the sleeves with velvet.

Today’s hood is colored according to the scholarly field of the individual and bears, on the inner liner, the official colors of the institution that conferred the degree. The West Virginia University ceremonial regalia consists of a blue gown with blue velvet trim, a gold and blue hood, and a blue hat. This regalia is worn by members of the platform party, special guests, and members of the University administration.
2012 Honorary Degree Recipients

At Commencement, West Virginia University recognizes the contributions of distinguished persons by conferring honorary degrees upon them.

GREGORY S. BABE

West Virginia University is recognizing Gregory S. Babe with an honorary degree. Mr. Babe is president and chief executive officer of Bayer Corporation and is the senior Bayer representative for the United States and Canada. He is responsible for the North American activities of the worldwide Bayer Group, an international health care, nutrition, and innovative materials group based in Leverkusen, Germany. In addition, he is also the president and CEO of Bayer MaterialScience LLC.

Previously, Mr. Babe served as president and CEO of Bayer Corporate and Business Services LLC, where he was responsible for providing expertise and support in engineering, information systems, procurement, materials management, human resources, financial, accounting, and other business services to Bayer Corporation and its affiliates.

He joined Bayer in 1976 as an intern in the polyurethanes group and has held several management positions of increasing responsibility, including manager of the Brunsbüttel, Germany facility; director and general manager of Hennecke Machinery, then a unit of Bayer’s polymers division in Pennsylvania; vice president of corporate quality; and director of a national program to implement Bayer’s enterprise resource planning system. Prior to his current roles, he was named senior vice president of information services, a role that was expanded to include the NAFTA region. When Mr. Babe was named president and CEO, he continued his role as chief information officer.

Mr. Babe is the chair of the Bayer Political Action Committee and the Bayer USA Foundation. For five years he served as the executive sponsor of the Bayer Diversity Advisory Council.

Gregory Babe serves on the American Chemistry Council’s (ACC) Executive Committee and Board of Directors, and as the executive chair of the ACC’s Responsible Care Board Committee, in addition to being a member of ACC’s Chemical Management and Board Research Committees. He also serves on the National Association of Manufacturers’ Board of Directors and Executive Committee.

Outside of his profession, Mr. Babe serves as chair of the Greater Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce. In addition, he sits on the Allegheny Conference on Community Development’s executive committee and acts as vice chair of the Board of Directors. He also serves on the WVU Foundation Board.

A native of West Virginia, Mr. Babe holds a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from West Virginia University. He is married, has four children, and resides in Mt. Lebanon, Pennsylvania.

MING HSIEH

West Virginia University is recognizing Ming Hsieh with an honorary degree. Ming Hsieh was co-founder of Cogent, Inc. and served as CEO and chairman of the company until 2010, when it was purchased by the 3M Company. Under his leadership, Cogent became a leading provider of biometrics identification systems and solutions to government, law enforcement agencies, and other organizations worldwide.

Ming Hsieh has served on the University of Southern California Board of Trustees since 2007 and on the Board of Trustees of Fudan University since 2011. As a philanthropist, he has donated more than $100 million to high schools, research institutions, and universities. He has established two distinguished professorships in teaching and research for the Forensic and Investigative Science Program in the Eberly College of Arts and Sciences at West Virginia University. He also made possible a gift from Cogent to develop a state-of-the-art teaching and research facility for the Forensic and Investigative Science Program’s home in Oglebay Hall.

Ming Hsieh’s longstanding interest in training, mentoring, and nurturing the next generation of forensic scientists has fueled his generosity toward WVU. He has given the University more than $5.5 million, including contributions for the construction of Ming Hsieh Hall on the Downtown campus in 2007.

Ming Hsieh received a BSEE in 1983, a MSEE in 1984, and a doctor of humane letters in 2011, all from the USC.
West Virginia University is recognizing G. Ogden Nutting with an honorary degree. Mr. Nutting is publisher of the Ogden Newspapers, Inc., which publishes six daily and three weekly newspapers in West Virginia, as well as 34 daily newspapers in ten other states. The newspaper company was founded by Mr. Nutting's grandfather, H.C. Ogden, a WVU graduate of 1887, who published the first edition of the Wheeling News on September 22, 1890. West Virginia's largest newspaper company, Ogden Newspapers has had its headquarters in Wheeling ever since.

Active in national and state newspaper and journalism associations, Mr. Nutting served on boards or committees of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association, the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, and the West Virginia Press Association, which in 1994 named him a life member “in appreciation for years of outstanding service” and in 2010 gave him the Adam Kelly Premier Journalist award.

Ogden Nutting has been a member of the WVU Foundation Board of Directors, and as a member of the School of Journalism Visiting Committee he was instrumental in establishing the Ogden Newspapers and Nutting Family Journalism Endowment Scholarship Fund for juniors and seniors studying print media. Ogden Newspapers and the Nutting family also created the West Virginia University Journalism Library Endowment Fund, the Ogden Newspapers Seminar Series, the Ogden Newspapers Multimedia Classroom, and the Ogden Newspapers Endowed Visiting Professor, which was held for ten years by the late George Esper.

West Virginia University has recognized Mr. Nutting's service with the Most Loyal West Virginian Award, the Distinguished Service Award, and the first Paul A. Atkins Friend of the Journalism School Award. He has also been inducted into the Order of Vandalia and the West Virginia University Business Hall of Fame. In addition, the Nutting Foundation received the WVU Foundation’s Outstanding Philanthropy Award.

The Nutting family also owns Seven Springs Mountain Resort and is the major owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Mr. Nutting serves on the boards of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Bethany College, the Linsly School, the Wheeling Park Commission, and the Stone Foundation.

He and his wife, Betty Woods Nutting, have two sons, William Ogden Nutting, vice president and secretary of the Ogden Newspapers, Inc., and Robert McLain Nutting, president and CEO of the Ogden Newspapers, Inc. They also have five granddaughters and one grandson.

West Virginia University is recognizing Stuart M. Robbins with an honorary degree. He earned a bachelor's degree in history from WVU in 1965. Mr. Robbins is the former managing director of Global Equities for Donaldson, Lufkin & Jenrette, one of Wall Street's leading investment banking firms. At the time of his retirement, Mr. Robbins managed a worldwide business of over 1,500 people in 24 offices doing business in all major international money markets. He was also a member of DLJ’s Board of Directors, a member of the Board of DLJ International, chair of DLJ International (Equities), and chair of Autranet, Inc.

Following his retirement from DLJ, Mr. Robbins was chair of the Board of Directors of SoundView Technology Group, a specialist in technology and one of the investment industry's leading independent research providers. He chaired the firm through a significant restructuring in a sharp investment industry decline to a return to profitability and led the Board in selling to Charles Schwab.

Mr. Robbins was a member of the Board of Archipelago, the nation's leading electronic securities exchange, participating from its initial public offering until its merger with the New York Stock Exchange. He also served as a member of the Board of LaBranche & Co., formerly the leading NYSE specialist and a major participant in the structured products business, prior to its sale to the Cowen Group.

Mr. Robbins is currently chair of the Board of Directors of Open Exchange, Inc., a leading provider of fully secure video networking solutions to the financial services industry. Mr. Robbins is also a former Institutional Investor All Star investment research analyst, having been ranked in the top three in his industry for eleven consecutive years. His experience includes numerous other corporate boards and participations with industry associations.

Mr. Robbins has been active in educational, charitable, and civic activities. He a former chair of the WVU Foundation Board of Directors, and he has served as a member of the College of Business and Economics Advisory Board, as a former member of the Eberly College of Arts and Sciences Advisory Board, and as a founding member of the Mountaineer Athletic Club Development Council. He has also served on numerous other charitable and governmental boards and associations.

Mr. Robbins and his wife, Joyce, have established the College of Business and Economics Center for Global Business and Strategy, a chair in History, a Distinguished Professorship in Epidemiology for the School of Public Health, along with several other funds and scholarships at West Virginia University. The University has honored his service by inducting him into both the Academy of Distinguished Alumni and the Order of Vandalia. Mr. and Mrs. Robbins split time between Florida and Michigan and have two children and four grandchildren.
The Order of Vandalia is West Virginia University's highest award for service to the University. The Order includes a long line of dedicated Mountaineers who have impacted the University through outstanding service. During Commencement Weekend, new members are inducted into this elite group in a ceremony hosted by the WVU Alumni Association.

ALISON DEEM
Alison Deem graduated from West Virginia University in 1970, and has been a champion of the University ever since. She has generously given her time and resources to promoting and improving the arts at WVU, especially within the College of Creative Arts.

She is a past member and former chair of the College of Creative Arts Visiting Committee. Through that work, she was instrumental in growing support, visibility, and engagement through new scholarships and educational opportunities. In addition, she continues to serve on both the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra-West Virginia University Partnership Board and the newly formed Friends Organizing Committee of the Art Museum of West Virginia University.

For over 15 years, Alison Deem and her husband, Patrick Deem, a graduate of the WVU College of Law and a practicing attorney with Steptoe & Johnson PLLC, have provided financial support for the Deem Distinguished Artist Lecture Series, which brings leading contemporary artists and scholars to the College of Creative Arts. In addition, they established the J. Bernard Schultz Endowed Professorship in Art in honor of former College of Creative Arts Dean and Director of the Creative Arts Center, Bernie Schultz. The Professorship provides funding to support research and creative activity by a professor of art at WVU. The Deems have also made an initial contribution to the proposed Art Museum of West Virginia University.

Ms. Deem is also a member, and past president, of the United Way of Harrison County and a member of the Board of Trustees of the Bridgeport Public Library. She is also a founding member and past president of the Harrison Arts Council, Inc. She is a former member of the Board of the Clarksburg-Harrison Public Library, the West Virginia Library Commission, the Community Foundation of North Central West Virginia, Inc., the United Health Foundation, and the Advisory Committee on the Arts of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C.

The Deems have two children, Megan and Patrick Jr., and reside in Bridgeport, West Virginia.

PAUL CHRISTOPHER FARMER
Paul Christopher Farmer came to West Virginia University from Mullens, West Virginia, to study mining engineering, and graduated in 1956.

As a student, he was an active member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity and has remained an active alumnus, serving as an original and continuing board member of WVU’s Kappa Alpha Building Association and the Alumni Board. He was instrumental in planning and raising money for the new Kappa Alpha house that is a model for other fraternities.

Paul Farmer has shown his dedication and service to WVU in many ways over the years. He served as president of the National Capital Area Chapter of the WVU Alumni Association, making it one of the most successful alumni chapters in the country.

For nearly 23 years, he ran buses packed with Mountaineer fans to many home and away football games. Paul never allowed the outcome of the contest to determine the success of the trip, making it a point to share time with his guests and enjoy good food and good fun with them.

As “Head Crab,” Paul oversees the largest non-athletics fundraiser for the WVU Alumni Association, the D.C. area WVU Alumni Association Crab Feast. The event has grown significantly under the 34 years of his leadership. What started out as a small backyard gathering has grown into an event that accommodates over 800 people, including the Mountaineer.

Paul received the first John F. Nicholas Jr. award from WVU in 1998. In 2009, he was given the National Capital Area Chapter Lifetime Achievement award. The Alpha Rho Chapter of Kappa Alpha also presented him with an appreciation award.

A graduate of the George Washington University School of Law, he worked for the Washington, D.C., Metropolitan Area Transit Authority as an attorney, the D.C. Highway Department, and served as a lieutenant in Korea with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. He currently resides in Fairfax, Virginia.
EDNA BENNETT PIERCE

Edna Bennett Pierce grew up near the West Virginia and Ohio state lines in Beaver, Pennsylvania. She learned the art of giving from her parents, metallurgical engineer, Karl, and homemaker and teacher, Alice Gordon Peterson. Edna graduated from Penn State University in 1953 with a B.S. in Home Economics. While at Penn State, she met, and later married, C. Eugene Bennett, who earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in chemistry from West Virginia University. He later went on to earn his Ph.D. from the University of Michigan and his M.B.A. from the University of Pennsylvania. Together, the Bennetts raised six children - Karl, Linda, David, Susan, Carol, and Alice - in Kennett Square, Pennsylvania and Wilmington, Delaware. Edna is now the grandmother of twelve and the great-grandmother of one. After Eugene's death in 1996, she married A. Duer Pierce, Jr., through whom she added three adult children, three grandchildren, and, subsequently, three great-grandchildren to her proud family.

She has been active in her church, teaching Sunday school, singing in the choir, and, over the years, serving on five different boards. She has also served on the boards of Ingleside Retirement Home, the Delaware Symphony Orchestra, and Opera Delaware. She served on the Campaign Steering Committee for the Grand Destiny Campaign of the Pennsylvania State University and is currently serving on the Development Council of the College of Health and Human Development. She has been instrumental in renewing the playground of the Nursery School at Penn State, establishing the Prevention Research Center for the Promotion of Human Development, building the Bennett Day Care Center, and establishing the Bennett Lectureship in Prevention Science.

At WVU, Eugene and Edna Bennett established the Careers for Chemists program and established an endowment for a Professor of Chemistry. In 1979, they hosted the first Delaware Chapter WVU picnic at their estate, an event that has become a yearly tradition. Since Eugene's death, Edna has continued to support the Department of Chemistry and host the popular Delaware WVU picnic.

BENJAMIN M. STATLER

Benjamin Statler and his wife, Jo, recently pledged the largest single gift commitment ever made to West Virginia University, a $34 million gift to benefit the newly re-named Benjamin M. Statler College of Engineering and Mineral Resources. This gift includes funds for construction of a new advanced engineering research facility, the establishment of the Statler Research Scholars Program, scholarships and research support for undergraduates majoring in engineering, creation of three endowed faculty chairs in energy research, and a graduate research fellows program.

This is but one of the generous gifts the Statlers have made to WVU over the years. With nearly $60 million of support given to their alma mater, the Statlers have been able to fund the comprehensive breast cancer program at WVU's Mary Babb Randolph Cancer Center, The Erickson Alumni Center building, the new Basketball Practice Facility, Mountaineer Athletics, and programs in the Statler College of Engineering and Mineral Resources.

In addition, Benjamin Statler has given his time to WVU as a member of the Department of Mining Engineering Visiting Committee and the WVU Foundation board of directors.

For his commitment and service, he has been inducted into the WVU Academy of Distinguished Alumni and the West Virginia Business Hall of Fame. He holds an honorary doctorate in sciences from WVU and has received both the WVU Foundation Outstanding Philanthropist Award and Milan Puskar Award. In addition, he has been named by WVU as a Most Loyal West Virginian and a Distinguished Engineer of Mines.

Benjamin Statler is a 1973 graduate of WVU. He began his career as a laborer with CONSOL in 1969. He advanced steadily over the years, rising to the positions of section foreman, assistant superintendent, superintendent and technical assistant to vice president of Morgantown operations before becoming vice president of Moundsville and Ohio operations. In 1994, he was named senior vice president of mining for the eastern region, and in 1996, he became senior vice president of mining for CONSOL.

In 1999, he retired from CONSOL to start his own mining company, PinnOak Resources, which is an entrepreneurial coal mining and energy resources group, with annual production capacity in excess of seven million tons of high-quality, low-volatile metallurgical coal. The company has had a positive economic impact on West Virginia and the nation.

Benjamin sold PinnOak in 2007. He is currently CEO of Gulf Coast Capital Partners, a private investment firm he co-founded. The Statlers reside in McMurray, Pennsylvania and Naples, Florida.

Dr. Carolyn Peluso Atkins is a professor in the Department of Speech Pathology & Audiology at West Virginia University. She received all of her degrees—a bachelor's and master's in rhetoric and public address, a master's in speech-language pathology, and a doctorate in curriculum and instruction—from WVU. She also holds the Certificate of Clinical Competence in Speech-Language Pathology from the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association.

The recipient of numerous teaching awards, Dr. Atkins was the 2005 West Virginia CASE Professor of the Year. This national teaching award, sponsored by the Council for Advancement and Support of Education and the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, is based on dedication to teaching, commitment to students, and innovative instructional methods.

Dr. Atkins also received the WVU Foundation Award for Outstanding Teacher, the Golden Key International Honour Society Golden Apple Award for Outstanding Teacher, and the WVU College of Human Resources and Education Award for Outstanding Teacher. In 2002, she was selected as Most Loyal Faculty Mountaineer. In 2004, she received the College of Human Resources and Education Laddie Bell Award for Distinguished Service and was inducted into Mountain Honorary. In 2006, she was named Italian-American Woman of the Year by the Clarksburg Italian Heritage Festival. In 2009, she received the WVU Student Affairs Outstanding Achievement Award.

Atkins is most recognized as the creator of “Student Athletes Speak Out,” a service-based program that prepares WVU student-athletes for public speaking through development of communication skills and self-confidence. In 2007 and 2008, she created and sent character education DVD’s featuring nine WVU student-athletes to all middle schools in West Virginia and developed an accompanying web site, http://saso.wvu.edu. In 2008, she published Great Unexpectations: Lessons from the Hearts of College Athletes, a book about her teaching experiences. As a result of a generous donation, the book has been sent to all middle schools and all public libraries in West Virginia. She is also establishing a Veterans Speak Out program in conjunction with a public speaking class for military veterans attending WVU.

G. Ogden Nutting

West Virginia University is recognizing G. Ogden Nutting with an honorary degree. Mr. Nutting is publisher of the Ogden Newspapers, Inc., which publishes six daily and three weekly newspapers in West Virginia, as well as 34 daily newspapers in 10 other states. The newspaper company was founded by Mr. Nutting’s grandfather, H.C. Ogden, a WVU graduate of 1887, who published the first edition of the Wheeling News on September 22, 1890. West Virginia’s largest newspaper company, Ogden Newspapers has had its headquarters in Wheeling ever since.

Active in national and state newspaper and journalism associations, Mr. Nutting served on boards or committees of the Southern Newspaper Publishers’ Association, the American Newspaper Publishers’ Association, and the West Virginia Press Association, which in 1994 named him a life member “in appreciation for years of outstanding service” and in 2010 gave him the Adam Kelly Premier Journalist award.

Ogden Nutting has been a member of the WVU Foundation Board of Directors, and as a member of the School of Journalism Visiting Committee he was instrumental in establishing the Ogden Newspapers and Nutting Family Journalism Endowment Scholarship Fund for juniors and seniors studying print media. Ogden Newspapers and the Nutting family also created the West Virginia University Journalism Library Endowment Fund, the Ogden Newspapers Seminar Series, the Ogden Newspapers Multimedia Classroom, and the Ogden Newspapers Endowed Visiting Professorship, which was held for 10 years by the late George Esper.

West Virginia University has recognized Mr. Nutting’s service with the Most Loyal West Virginian Award, the Distinguished Service Award, and the first Paul A. Atkins Friend of the Journalism School Award. He has also been inducted into the Order of Vandalia and the West Virginia University Business Hall of Fame. In addition, the Nutting Foundation received the WVU Foundation’s Outstanding Philanthropy Award.

The Nutting family also owns Seven Springs Mountain Resort and is the major owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Mr. Nutting serves on the boards of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Bethany College, the Linsly School, the Wheeling Park Commission, and the Stone Foundation.

He and his wife, Betty Woods Nutting, have two sons, William Ogden Nutting, vice president and secretary of the Ogden Newspapers, Inc., and Robert McLain Nutting, president and CEO of the Ogden Newspapers, Inc. They also have five granddaughters and one grandson.

RECESSIONAL Krista Shinew

Please join us for a reception to congratulate our graduates immediately following the ceremony in the Shell Building beside the Coliseum.

Graduates will have professional photos taken as they cross the stage. Ordering instructions are available at http://graduation.wvu.edu.

Smoking is prohibited in the Coliseum.
West Virginia University is recognizing Gregory S. Babe with an honorary degree. Mr. Babe is president and chief executive officer of Bayer Corporation and is the senior Bayer representative for the United States and Canada. He is responsible for the North American activities of the worldwide Bayer Group, an international health care, nutrition, and innovative materials group based in Leverkusen, Germany. In addition, he is also the president and CEO of Bayer MaterialScience LLC.

Previously, Mr. Babe served as president and CEO of Bayer Corporate and Business Services LLC, where he was responsible for providing expertise and support in engineering, information systems, procurement, materials management, human resources, financial, accounting, and other business services to Bayer Corporation and its affiliates.

He joined Bayer in 1976 as an intern in the polyurethanes group and has held several management positions of increasing responsibility, including manager of the Brunsbüttel, Germany facility; director and general manager of Hennecke Machinery, then a unit of Bayer’s polymers division in Pennsylvania; vice president of corporate quality; and director of a national program to implement Bayer’s enterprise resource planning system. Prior to his current roles, he was named senior vice president of information services, a role that was expanded to include the NAFTA region. When Mr. Babe was named president and CEO, he continued his role as chief information officer.

Mr. Babe is the chair of the Bayer Political Action Committee and the Bayer USA Foundation. For five years he served as the executive sponsor of the Bayer Diversity Advisory Council.

Mr. Babe serves on the American Chemistry Council’s (ACC) Executive Committee and Board of Directors, and as the executive chair of the ACC’s Responsible Care Board Committee, in addition to being a member of ACC’s Chemical Management and Board Research Committees. He also serves on the National Association of Manufacturers’ Board of Directors and Executive Committee.

Outside of his profession, Mr. Babe serves as chair of the Greater Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce. In addition, he sits on the Allegheny Conference on Community Development’s Executive Committee and acts as vice chair of the Board of Directors. He also serves on the WVU Foundation Board.

A native of West Virginia, Mr. Babe holds a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from West Virginia University. He is married, has four children, and resides in Mt. Lebanon, Pennsylvania.

Ralph M. Barnes Senior Scholastic Achievement Award
Established by the family of Ralph M. Barnes, an alumnus of the College of Engineering, to encourage, recognize, and reward superior academic performance, this award goes to the graduate(s) with the highest grade point average during their junior and senior years while enrolled as a full-time student. Recipients will be announced at Commencement.

2012 WVU Foundation Outstanding Seniors
Each year the WVU Foundation selects WVU’s top graduating students based on a number of criteria, including academic achievement, honors and awards, public service, demonstrated leadership, collegiate work experience, reference, and a narrative of value of the WVU undergraduate experience. This year’s WVU Foundation Outstanding Seniors from the Benjamin M. Statler College of Engineering and Mineral Resources are:

Amy Louise Burt
Brittney Kaye Benchoff
Niccolò Campriani

Engineers’ Creed
As a professional engineer, I dedicate my professional knowledge and skill to the advancement and betterment of human welfare. I pledge:

To give the utmost of performance;
To participate in none but honest enterprise;

To live and work according to the laws of man and the highest standards of professional conduct;
To place service before profit, the honor and standing of the profession before personal advantage, and the public welfare above all other considerations.
In humility and with need for divine guidance, I make this pledge.

Adopted by the National Society of Professional Engineers, June 1954

Disclaimer: The list of degree candidates in this program is tentative based upon the anticipated successful completion of work undertaken during the second semester of the 2011-2012 academic year. This document should not be taken as an official record that degrees have, in fact, been awarded.
LAW HONORS, ACTIVITIES & RECOGNITIONS

ORDER OF THE COIF
Selection to the Order of the Coif, as represented by the white circle on the graduate’s hat, is a recognition of outstanding scholarly achievement in law school. West Virginia University has been the home of a chapter of the Order of the Coif since 1925.

ORDER OF THE BARRISTERS
A national honorary organization, the Order of the Barristers encourages oral advocacy and brief writing skills through effective law school appellate moot court programs. Members of the Marlyn E. Lugar Trial Association, the Moot Court Board, and students who have outstanding oral advocacy achievements are eligible for the award.

PATRICK DUFFY KOONTZ PRIZE
The Patrick Duffy Koontz Prize is a monetary prize awarded to West Virginia residents selected by the College of Law scholarship committee on the basis of scholarship, character, and leadership potential.

THOMAS N. CHAMBERS AWARD IN TAXATION
The Thomas N. Chambers Award in Taxation was established by the West Virginia Tax Institute in recognition of outstanding achievement by a student in tax law scholarship.

THE WEST VIRGINIA LAW REVIEW
The West Virginia Law Review publishes three scholarly issues each year, which regularly are cited by courts throughout the nation as an authoritative source of interpretation and explanation of the law. Candidates for the Law Review are selected on the basis of academic performance and legal research and writing skills following their first or second year in law school. Members of the Board elect the Editor-in-Chief, who appoints other executive editors. The West Virginia Law Review is the fourth oldest student-led law journal in the nation and was established in 1894.

MARLYN E. LUGAR TRIAL ASSOCIATION
The Marlyn E. Lugar Trial Association is an honorary society of law students selected based on their grades in Trial Advocacy. Participating students compete in intramural trials during the Fall of their third year and represent the WVU College of Law in external trial competitions during the Spring. The Association also sponsors and conducts the West Virginia Invitational trial competition, which is open to all students at the WVU College of Law.

MOOT COURT
The Moot Court Board manages the George C. Baker Cup intramural appellate moot court competition. Members of the WVU College of Law national and international moot court teams are selected from the members of the Board on the basis of competitions and represent the College throughout the area and the nation.

WVU LAW CLINICAL LAW PROGRAM
The Clinical Law Program provides civil legal services to qualified clients with a variety of concentrations. These cases provide excellent experiential learning opportunities for law students.

- GENERAL CIVIL PRACTICE CLINIC
- THE INNOCENCE PROJECT
- LOW INCOME TAXPAYER CLINIC
- CHILD AND FAMILY LAW CLINIC
- ENTREPRENEURSHIP LAW CLINIC
- HUMAN RIGHTS AND IMMIGRATION LAW CLINIC
- SUPREME COURT ADVOCACY CLINIC
- VETERAN’S ASSISTANCE PROJECT
- LAND USE & SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT LAW CLINIC

THE JUSTITIA OFFICIUM AWARD
The WVU College of Law Justitia Officium Award recognizes outstanding contributions and service to the legal profession and is the highest honor the College of Law bestows on an individual. Established in 1978, in commemoration of the 100th Anniversary of the founding of the College of Law, the Justitia Officium Award is presented annually. An individual bronze plaque bearing the recipient’s name and the year the award was presented is mounted in the lobby of the WVU Law Center.

COMMEMCEMENT 2012 | 41
Ellen S. Cappellanti is the Leader of the Jackson Kelly Firm’s Corporate and Business Practice Group. She assists clients in a wide variety of commercial transactions, including financings, leasings, acquisitions, and real estate development projects. She also regularly represents debtors, creditors, and trustees in business bankruptcies and out-of-court restructurings.

Ms. Cappellanti is the past chair of the Standing Bankruptcy Committee of the State Bar and is in The Best Lawyers in America® under the bankruptcy, corporate mergers, and acquisitions and real estate designations. She is a member of the American College of Real Estate Lawyers. She is recognized by Chambers USA, America’s Leading Business Lawyers, as a preeminent Corporate/M&A lawyer. In the 2011 edition of Chambers USA, sources said Ms. Cappellanti’s “connections in the state make it easy for us to reach the right people.” She served as the President of the governing council of the West Virginia Law Institute and is a Master (Emeritus) of the Judge John A. Field, Jr. Inn of Court. Ms. Cappellanti is a member of the Judicial Conference of the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit. She is a member of the West Virginia Bar and has been admitted to practice before the United States District Courts for the Northern and Southern Districts of West Virginia, the United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth and Sixth Circuits, and the United States Supreme Court of Appeals.

Ms. Cappellanti is committed to community service. Appointed by West Virginia Governor Joe Manchin in 2007, she serves as a Member of the West Virginia University Board of Governors. She is the representative of the Board of Governors on the West Virginia United Health System Board. She serves on the Honorary Board of the Contemporary American Theater Festival, Inc. She is the Executive Vice President and member of the Board of Directors of the Clay Center of the Arts and Sciences. She is the past Co Chair of Advantage Valley, Inc. and past President and Member of the Board of Directors of the Discover The Real West Virginia Foundation. She has participated in four trade missions to the Far East with Senator John D. Rockefeller IV, and in a 2007 trade mission to China with Governor Joe Manchin. Ms. Cappellanti also has been elected to serve on the Board of Directors for the Charleston, West Virginia, bank of Branch Banking and Trust Company.

Ms. Cappellanti graduated from West Virginia University in 1977 and served as student body vice-president while an undergraduate. She graduated in 1980 from the West Virginia University College of Law, where she was selected as a member of Order of the Coif and Order of the Barristers. While in law school, she was a member of the West Virginia University College of Law moot Court Board and the national moot Court team and served as Lead Articles editor of the West Virginia Law Review.

Ms. Cappellanti is a past recipient of the YWCA of Charleston Women of Achievement Award and the WVU College of Law Women’s Law Caucus Distinguished Women in the Law Award.

Scott S. Segal thrives on the practice of law, and his arena of choice is the courtroom. He concentrates on representing catastrophically injured people or the estates of those killed due to the negligence of others. Some of the types of cases he handles involve industrial accidents, aviation tragedies, tractor trailer crashes, train wrecks, mining accidents, electrocutions, workplace injuries, and injuries from defective products. Mr. Segal also has a major practice emphasis on class action litigation and complex mass litigation. The types of class and complex cases he has handled include asbestos litigation, pharmaceuticals, insurance practices, and a wide range of consumer matters.

Mr. Segal earned his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Vermont in 1977. He earned his J.D. in 1981 from the West Virginia University College of Law. Mr. Segal excelled in trial and advocacy skills during law school. He was a member of the Moot Court Board, the National Appellate Competition Team, and the National Trial Competition Team. He achieved recognition with the award of the prestigious order of the Barristers and the Marilyn E. Lugar best advocate award. He has been an avid supporter of both the University of Vermont, where he received the Alumni of Achievement Award, and West Virginia University, where he was honored with the Most Loyal Alumni Mountaineer Award.

Mr. Segal has many significant accomplishments for his clients. For instance, he obtained a $25 million jury verdict for a physician who had been treated improperly by a hospital. Mr. Segal was co-trial counsel in litigation regarding the improper payment of gas royalties to thousands of West Virginians. The jury awarded $405 million to the plaintiffs. Mr. Segal was co-lead counsel in the West Virginia diet drug litigation, which was successfully resolved. He was co-lead counsel in the West Virginia litigation involving the diabetes drug Rezulin, which is one of the few such cases in the country to overcome legal challenges and reach resolution. Mr. Segal was in the forefront of asbestos litigation and has successfully tried and resolved over 15,000 asbestos and/or mesothelioma cases. Mr. Segal has presented over 40 continuing legal presentations in West Virginia and throughout the United States. He presented on several occasions “Ethics and Leadership” on a tour of all United States Air Force Bases in Europe.

Mr. Segal is a member of and involved in numerous professional associations. In 1998, Mr. Segal was inducted into the Inner Circle of Advocates, which has a limited membership of one hundred of the best plaintiffs’ trial lawyers in the United States. Some of his other associations include the American College of Trial Lawyers, the American Association for Justice – Leader’s Forum, the American Board of Trial Advocates, the West Virginia Association for Justice - Board of Governors, and the Fourth Circuit Judicial Conference. Mr. Segal is President of the Segal & Davis Family Foundation which supports programs for education, children, and animal protection. He has served on many boards, including The University of Vermont Foundation, The National Youth Science Foundation Board of Trustees, and Make-A-Wish Foundation of Western Pennsylvania and Southern West Virginia. Mr. Segal resides in Charleston with his wife, the Honorable Robin Jean Davis; their son, Oliver; and their golden retrievers, Lear and Jackson.

RECESSIONAL William Haller

Please join us for a reception to congratulate our graduates immediately following the ceremony in the Douglas O. Blaney Lobby of the Creative Arts Center.

Graduates will have professional photos taken as they cross the stage. Ordering instructions are available at http://graduation.wvu.edu.

NYC-based drummer Allison Miller defies all boundaries bringing her individual sound to diverse types of music while preserving their stylistic authenticity. Allison goes from leading her band, BOOM TIC BOOM, to playing with legendary songwriting vocalists Ani DiFranco, Brandi Carlile and Natalie Merchant, to touring with avant-garde saxophonist Marty Ehrlich and legendary organist Doctor Lonnie Smith. She approaches each of these musical situations with her own stylistic identity and a creative, fresh and energetic approach. Allison was chosen as “Rising Star Drummer” in Downbeat’s 53rd and 58th Annual Critics Poll.

Raised in the Washington D.C. area, Miller began playing the drums at the age of ten, studying with Walter Salb, and was soon thereafter featured in Downbeat Magazine’s “Up and Coming” section in 1991. After graduating from West Virginia University she moved to New York City to study with Michael Carvin and Lenny White and pursue what has become a fruitful career as a freelance drummer, composer, producer, and teacher.

Allison is currently celebrating the release of her second solo leader album, BOOM TIC BOOM (Foxhaven Records, March 2010). BOOM TIC BOOM, named one of the “Top 10 Jazz Albums of 2010” by the LA Times, pays homage to and is inspired by all of the important women in Miller’s life. The album features pianist Myra Melford, violinist Jenny Scheinman, and bassist Todd Sickafoose. Together, they musically collaborate, creatively expounding on compositions written primarily by Miller and Melford. Miller has been recognized by the Showtime network, which featured her music in the series The L Word, and by the US State Department when she was chosen to tour East Africa, Eurasia and Southeast Asia as a Jazz Ambassador.

Allison also produced the critically acclaimed children's album, Ask the Planet (2009). Organized by the Biomimicry Institute, Ask the Planet connects environmentalism with song, while educating children about respecting the environment and learning from nature's plan. Ask the Planet was awarded the “National Parent Award” in 2009.

In 2008 Allison founded the “Walter Salb Memorial Musical Scholarship Foundation” in honor of her late teacher and mentor. The foundation annually provides a promising young musician a monetary award directed toward furthering their studies in music. Passing on the tradition of jazz drumming is also very important to Allison. She is currently on Modern Drummer’s 2011 Pro-panel and holds an adjunct teaching position at Kutztown University. She also gives lessons and master classes at additional universities and high schools throughout the United States. She has been featured in DRUM magazine, Downbeat, Jazz Times, Modern Drummer, Drummer UK, Jazziz, Yamaha All Access 360, TomTom Magazine, Traps, All About Jazz NY, and Female Musician magazine.

Allison endorses Yamaha drums, Zildjian cymbals, Vic Firth sticks and mallets, Evans heads, and LP Percussion.

Please join us for a reception to congratulate our graduates immediately following the ceremony in the Shell Building beside the Coliseum.

Graduates will have professional photos taken as they cross the stage. Ordering instructions are available at  http://graduation.wvu.edu.

 Members of the audience are requested to stand and remain at their places. Smoking is prohibited in the Coliseum.
West Virginia University is recognizing Stuart M. Robbins with an honorary degree. He earned a bachelor’s degree in history from WVU in 1965. Mr. Robbins is the former managing director of Global Equities for Donaldson, Lufkin & Jenrette, one of Wall Street’s leading investment banking firms. At the time of his retirement, Mr. Robbins managed a worldwide business of over 1,500 people in 24 offices doing business in all major international money markets. He was also a member of DLJ’s Board of Directors, a member of the Board of DLJ International, chair of DLJ International (Equities), and chair of Autranet, Inc.

Following his retirement from DLJ, Mr. Robbins was chair of the Board of Directors of SoundView Technology Group, a specialist in technology and one of the investment industry’s leading independent research providers. He chaired the firm through a significant restructuring in a sharp investment industry decline to a return to profitability and led the Board in selling to Charles Schwab.

Mr. Robbins was a member of the Board of Archipelago, the nation’s leading electronic securities exchange, participating from its initial public offering until its merger with the New York Stock Exchange. He also served as a member of the Board of LaBranche & Co., formerly the leading NYSE specialist and a major participant in the structured products business, prior to its sale to the Cowen Group.

Mr. Robbins is currently chair of the Board of Directors of Open Exchange, Inc., a leading provider of fully secure video networking solutions to the financial services industry. Mr. Robbins is also a former Institutional Investor All Star investment research analyst, having been ranked in the top three in his industry for eleven consecutive years. His experience includes numerous other corporate boards and participations with industry associations.

Mr. Robbins has been active in educational, charitable, and civic activities. He is a former chair of the WVU Foundation Board of Directors, and he has served as a member of the College of Business and Economics Advisory Board, as a former member of the Eberly College of Arts and Sciences Advisory Board, and as a founding member of the Mountaineer Athletic Club Development Council. He has also served on numerous other charitable and governmental boards and associations.

Mr. Robbins and his wife, Joyce, have established the College of Business and Economics Center for Global Business and Strategy, a chair in History, a Distinguished Professorship in Epidemiology for the School of Public Health, along with several other funds and scholarships at West Virginia University. The University has honored his service by inducting him into both the Academy of Distinguished Alumni and the Order of Vandalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Robbins split time between Florida and Michigan and have two children and four grandchildren.

Kim Craig

Mr. Craig is a native of Clarksburg, West Virginia, and currently serves as President and Chief Executive Officer of F.N.B. Wealth Management which operates First National Trust Company, a nationally chartered trust company, F. N. B. Investment Advisors, Inc., a registered investment adviser, and First National Investment Services Company, LLC, a licensed insurance agency. Mr. Craig received his Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration from West Virginia University with designated majors in finance and accounting.

Following graduation from West Virginia University, Mr. Craig was employed by Fidelity Union Bancorporation in Moorestown, New Jersey, the Blueville Bank of Grafton in Grafton, West Virginia, First National Bank of Morgantown in Morgantown, West Virginia and served as Executive Vice President of Promistar Financial Corporation prior to his appointment as President and Chief Operating Officer of Promistar Trust Company in May of 1990.

Mr. Craig’s post graduate work includes a professional designation as Certified Trust and Financial Advisor (CTFA) from the Institute of Certified Bankers; certification from the National Trust School at Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois; Trust Functions and Services from Pierce Junior College in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; and Fiduciary Income Taxation from Rider College in Lawrenceville, New Jersey. Mr. Craig has also received similar designations in both Wealth Accumulation and Advanced Estate Planning from the American College.

Joel G. Newman

Joel Newman was elected American Feed Industry Association president in July 2004 and officially assumed his post in January 2005. He is only the seventh president in the association’s 101-year history. Joel's prior AFIA affiliation included serving as chairman of the board and four terms as director.

Joel has over three decades of diverse agribusiness career experience. He has served in several positions, from sales to CEO leadership, in various agribusiness segments, including retail, petroleum, food processing, agronomy, and commercial feed.

Joel completed his bachelor's degree in animal science at West Virginia University and his M.B.A. in finance at Syracuse University. He is director of the International Feed Industry Federation, headquartered in the United Kingdom. He is also an appointed member of the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture’s Agriculture Technical Advisory Committee and serves on the U.S. Delegation for Codex Alimentarius, which establishes global food safety and trade standards. He recently served on the President’s Food Safety Initiative. In 2009, Joel led the establishment of an industry foundation, IFEEDER, to fund future education and research priorities of the industry and serves as president of the foundation.

Headquartered in Arlington, Virginia, AFIA is the only national trade association devoted exclusively to representing the interests of the animal feed industry and its suppliers. Membership includes feed and pet food manufacturers, ingredient manufacturers and suppliers, equipment manufacturers, and companies that supply goods and services to those agricultural sectors. AFIA's over 500 corporate members manufacture 75 percent of the nation's primary commercial food.

Mark Brazaitis

Mark Brazaitis directs the Master of Fine Arts Program in Creative Writing in the Department of English at West Virginia University. He is the author of An American Affair, winner of the 2004 George Garrett Prize for fiction; The River of Lost Voices: Stories from Guatemala, winner of the 1998 Iowa Short Fiction Award; The Other Language, winner of the 2008 ABZ Poetry Prize; and a novel, Steal My Heart. His latest collection of stories, The Incurables, won the 2012 Richard Sullivan Prize and will be published by the University of Notre Dame Press this winter.

He was the screenwriter for the award-winning Peace Corps documentary How Far Are You Willing to Go to Make a Difference? His stories, poems, and essays have appeared in The Sun, Ploughshares, Witness, Beloit Fiction Journal, Notre Dame Review, Greensboro Review, Shenandoah, and other literary journals. Brazaitis has also published journalism in The Washington Post, the Richmond Times-Dispatch, the Detroit Free Press, and American Medical News.

He has given more than 75 public readings of his work throughout the United States and in Cuba and has been featured on National Public Radio.

Brazaitis received a master of fine arts degree from Bowling Green University and a bachelor’s in history from Harvard University. He is a recipient of a National Endowment for the Arts Fellowship, the Eberly College’s Outstanding Researcher and Outstanding Teaching Awards, and the 2011 Benedum Distinguished Scholar Award. He lives in Morgantown with his wife, Julie, and his daughters, Annabel and Rebecca.

Ming Hsieh

West Virginia University is recognizing Ming Hsieh with an honorary degree. Ming Hsieh was co-founder of Cogent, Inc. and served as CEO and chairman of the company until 2010, when it was purchased by the 3M Company. Under his leadership, Cogent became a leading provider of biometrics identification systems and solutions to government, law enforcement agencies, and other organizations worldwide.

Ming Hsieh has served on the University of Southern California Board of Trustees since 2007 and on the Board of Trustees of Fudan University since 2011. As a philanthropist, he has donated more than $100 million to high schools, research institutions, and universities. He has established two distinguished professorships in teaching and research for the Forensic and Investigative Science Program in the Eberly College of Arts and Sciences at West Virginia University. He also made possible a gift from Cogent to develop a state-of-the-art teaching and research facility for the Forensic and Investigative Science Program’s home in Oglebay Hall.

Ming Hsieh’s longstanding interest in training, mentoring, and nurturing the next generation of forensic scientists has fueled his generosity toward WVU. He has given the University more than $5.5 million, including contributions for the construction of Ming Hsieh Hall on the Downtown campus in 2007.

Ming Hsieh received a BSee in 1983, a MSee in 1984, and a doctor of humane letters in 2011, all from the USC.

Richard French

Rick French is the current chair of the Eberly College of Arts and Sciences Advisory Committee. The Committee’s role is to enhance the accomplishments, strengths, and future quality of the College—and to build coalitions and communications in support of development activities. He is a 1988 graduate of WVU’s Department of Political Science and a 1989 graduate of the Master of Public Administration program. In 1990, French was elected to Pi Alpha Alpha, the national honor society for public affairs and administration.

French has spent more than two decades in public service in Washington, D.C. As a member of the career Senior Executive Service, he served as the director of the Department of Labor’s Office of Strategic Planning. In this role, the Secretary of Labor appointed him to serve as the Department’s first-ever performance improvement officer, through which he oversaw the day-to-day performance of 20-plus Labor agencies. French also served as deputy director of Labor’s Departmental Budget Center, which had an annual budget approaching $60 billion. He also served as a Congressional staff member with Senator John D. Rockefeller IV and Representative Nick J. Rahall II.

George Henshaw

George Henshaw earned his Bachelors degree from the WVU School of Physical Education and his Masters degree in Secondary Education from WVU.  As an undergraduate, he started for the WVU football team during his sophomore, junior, and senior years and was an All-Conference lineman.  George received the Ira Rodgers Award in 1970.  He began his coaching career at WVU.  George also coached as both an offensive and defensive line coach and as offensive coordinator at Florida State University, as an offensive line coach and offensive coordinator at the University of Alabama, and served as head coach at Tulsa University.  He also spent five years with the Denver Broncos coaching wide receivers and the offensive line and was the teams offensive coordinator in 1992.  While with the Broncos the team won two AFC West titles and appeared in Super Bowl XXIV.  George served as the New York Giants offensive coordinator for four years.  He also coached for the Tennessee Oilers, served as assistant head coach/offense for the Tennessee Titans, and the New Orleans Saints.  He has been a credit to college athletics and pro athletics.  He has been involved in several professional organizations which include the American Football Coaches Association and National Football League Coaches Association.
Mr. Henshaw is currently a consultant for AFLAC.  George and his wife, Kathleen, reside in Mandeville, LA.  They have two sons, Michael and Matthew, and one daughter, Kerry.

Graduates will have professional photos taken as they cross the stage. Ordering instructions are available at http:// graduation.wvu.edu.
